TRANSFER OF DIAZ TO LINER LEAVING MEXICO ORDERED

Refugee on U. S. Warship to Be Put on Mail Ship at Sea to Prevent His Arrest.

NEW NOTE TO DICTATOR

Wilson to Propose Cessation of Hostilities and an Untrammeled Election.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the navy today instructed Rear Admiral Fletcher to place Gen. Felix Diaz, the Mexican refugee, and his party aboard a New York and Cuba mail steamer after the ship leaves the last Mexican port on her sailing. The ship has not been selected.

Under that plan Diaz and his party will be transferred from the battleship Louisiana to a New York and Cuba liner after the latter sails from Progreso, at a date yet undetermined. Acting Secretary Roosevelt's instructions were issued after a conference with President Wilson.

The transfer of the fugitives will be made at sea to guard against their arrest by the Huerta authorities.

President Wilson will begin in the next few days the preparation of a note addressed to the world, but particularly to Provisional President Huerta, dictator of Mexico, and the British, German and French Governments, defining the policy of the United States in Mexico.

Secretary of State Bryan today turned over to the President several documents, among them all the late dispatches from the Mexican capital and the notes from Great Britain, Germany and France regarding the attitude of those Governments toward the American policy in Mexico. From these documents the President will obtain much of the data he will use in preparing his note of declaration.

The first efforts of the President and his advisers will be to obtain a cessation of hostilities in order that a constitutional election may be held. This will include a promise from the revolutionists that they will halt military operations, that Huerta will do the same and that the latter will agree to the holding of an election in which he is to have no part, not even the appointment of the election machinery.

Moral Suasion First.

As was outlined in the President's speech at Mobile, he will try moral suasion first. The seeking of a cessation of hostilities on both sides, pending the holding of an election, will be the first step in this direction. The President has hopes of the plan being successful, which is more than can be said of a majority of other American officials.

According to those who are close to the President, it is his intention to keep John Lind in Vera Cruz until he has made his announcement of policy, for the purpose of dispatching Lind to Mexico City to lay the whole plan before Huerta and his advisers. This plan provides for the offer of aid by the United States in seeking a man acceptable to both factions in Mexico for provisional President and for the supervision of elections. It will be pointed out to Huerta that this is the only way in which Mexico can be saved from intervention and the integrity of her territory maintained.

No Grabbing of Land.

The President, if the plan is adopted, will inform Huerta that it is the intention of the United States Government to work to the end that there shall be no land or concession grabbing by Americans.

Recognition by another nation of any faction in Mexico or the sanctioning of a loan to either faction would be regarded by the United States as interference and would call forth a rebuke from this Government. In the note defining the new policy, the President will make all of this clear to England, Germany and France, the nations with most at stake in Mexico besides the United States.

Many of the friends of the President believe that France has agreed to support the United States by asking that an American warship be sent to the west coast of Mexico, in the vicinity of San Ignacio, to afford protection to French citizens there. As yet no warship has been ordered to that section of the Mexican coast, but the cruiser Maryland, now at Mazatlan, is expected to proceed to the point in question.

Bryan Sees No Change.

Secretary Bryan, who departed today to speak in the New Jersey political campaign, said there was no change in the Mexican situation. Bryan will speak in Perth Amboy and New Brunswick tonight, in Elizabeth tomorrow afternoon and in Jersey City tomorrow night. He will return to Washington Saturday morning and will address Maryland voters in Rockville, Hagerstown and Frederick.

To insure the safety of Gen. Felix Diaz and his party of refugees now aboard the battleship Louisiana, Rear Admiral Fletcher has asked the Navy Department to decide whether they should be transported to some port outside of Mexico on one of the American warships.

PENNSYLVANIA FORBIDS GIRLS' WORK AFTER 9 P.M.

Actresses, Choir Singers and Telephone Operators Under 21 Among Those Affected.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—It will not do for pony ballets to attempt to perform at night in Philadelphia—not if its members are under 21 years of age—for the new labor law will not let them. Nor actresses of any degree who are under 21 years of age. They can't stay out after 9 o'clock at night—that is, on the stage.

This new law, affecting the employment of girls after 9 o'clock, will affect also girl ushers, telephone operators moving picture box office girls by the hundreds in the State; none in any employment may work after that hour.

"Even actresses and chorus girls under 21 years old performing after 9 o'clock at night are required by the law to quit work, and even girls singing in church choirs may not do so after 9 o'clock," said T. Henry Walnut, one of the sponsors of the law.

BALL CROWD PALMED OFF ON LONDON AS AT POLO

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Americans in London are being hugely amused over a curious blunder made by one of the illustrated papers here showing a picture of the crowds besieging the gates of the Polo Grounds in New York on the day of the first game of the world's baseball championship under the caption "Polo Is Popular in New York." Beneath the photograph there is further explanation which reads as follows:

"The Polo Grounds in New York was rushed by an excited crowd when the gates opened for the first game of a world's series. The police were bowled over like ninepins and many people did not pay for admission."

The parties responsible for the blunder have since learned that polo is not all that is played on the Polo Grounds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hitt, just married, came to New York last evening. Joseph Leiter, of Chicago, must have been in the secret early, for he arranged at a hotel for the best dinner for four that could be served.

Leiter went into the wine cellar and personally selected the brandy, at $1.50 a "pony," to be served at the wind up. Stephen B. Elkins completed the party.

TELLS OF JUMPING FROM WINDOW TO SPITE HER FATHER

Mrs. Violet Bogy Moseley Testifies in Case Against Bernard P. Bogy.

WANTS ESTATE SETTLED

Tried to End Life at Convent Because Parent Insisted That She Study French.

Mrs. Violet Bogy Moseley, 22 years old, wife of Arthur Guy Moseley, an attorney, and living at 1230 Amherst place, testified before Referee Charles Claflin Allen Thursday in a suit against her father, Bernard P. Bogy, asking for an accounting of her mother's estate. Among other things, she told of leaping from a window of the Sacred Heart Convent in St. Charles in an effort to kill herself rather than be forced by her father to study French.

Mrs. Moseley alleges her father has squandered a large portion of her mother's estate and that he has deprived her of moneys that she should have received as one of her mother's heirs. In her suit Mrs. Moseley valued her mother's estate at $100,000. Bogy is connected with the Union Sand and Material Co.

Paid Her Large Sums, He Says.

Bogy, in his reply to the charge, claims he paid his daughter large sums of money before and after her marriage. She demanded $350 a month, he claims, as a pension, in consideration of her willingness to give up the stage.

Bogy also claims his daughter pawned most of her mother's jewelry, which he had given her, and denies her charge that she was forced to pawn certain articles to get sufficient money to buy food and clothes.

When Mrs. Moseley, on examination of her father's attorney, told of her attempted suicide, her attorney, Judge William C. Marshal, jumped to his feet and exclaimed angrily that if the other side intended to air family affairs he would give them blow for blow.

On cross-examination by S. T. G. Smith, her father's attorney, Mrs. Moseley told of disagreements with her father while she was in the convent.

Wanted All Her Time for Music.

"He wanted me to study French and I wanted to devote all my time to music," she said. "In 1907, when I was 16 years old, I jumped from a second-story window of the convent. I wanted to kill myself. My father insisted that I study French. Besides that, he did not give me enough money."

The cross-examination apparently was intended to show that Mrs. Moseley was willful and headstrong and a hard person for a guardian to control.

Mrs. Moseley said that after the leap from the window she was unconscious two days. When she regained consciousness her father was at her bedside.

"Didn't you say to him: 'Now, will you try to make me study French?'" asked Smith.

"Maybe I did. I don't remember," replied Mrs. Moseley. She was asked whether she had not pawned jewelry which her father gave her.

"If I did it was to get money to buy food," she replied. Smith questioned her about a diamond-set breastpin which her father gave her, and asked her whether she had pawned it for $50 and used the money to buy lace underwear.

Mrs. Moseley denied this. She said she may have told her father she lost the pin and that she may have told him a Mexican girl at the convent stole it from her locker.

Says She Pawned Jewelry.

Mrs. Moseley was asked on cross-examination if she hadn't pawned a locket with her mother's picture in it. She replied she had pawned the locket, but had removed the picture. She denied that she had pawned her mother's watch, but said she had pawned for 50 or 75 cents a blue enamel watch her father had given her.

She denied also that she had pawned a solitaire diamond ring, giving the pawn ticket later to her father, adding that the only solitaire ring she had ever owned was an engagement ring, which she returned to the giver when the engagement was broken.

She said she wished to add to the list of jewelry she had pawned a pair of sapphire and diamond earrings and a diamond pin which her father had owned most of the time.

Her Letters Are Read.

Letters written by Mrs. Moseley were offered by counsel for Bogy to refresh her memory about certain statements she had made. In one of the letters dated August 8, 1912, a month after her marriage, Mrs. Moseley wrote her father that while her husband was doing all in his power for her, she depended to a great extent on her father for money with which to purchase clothing.

When Attorney Smith was reading extracts from the letter Mrs. Moseley turned in the witness stand and her eyes met those of her father who was seated behind her. Her eyes flashed and she turned quickly around. Bogy winked at his son, Bernard P. Bogy Jr., who was sitting beside him.

"Wasn't your father much opposed to your stage career, and didn't he beg you to give up the theatrical profession?" asked Attorney Smith.

"He seemed opposed to it, but his begging was not urgent enough to make me change my plans," replied Mrs. Moseley with a smile.

"You demanded something like $350 a month to give up the stage, didn't you?" asked Smith.

"I said I would like to have about that much so that I could maintain a

FIREMAN INJURED AS FLAMES WRECK HOLY CROSS SCHOOL

Lieut. Irwin Falls When Roof Collapses—Blaze Follows Halloween Party.

BELFRY HALF DESTROYED

Loss Is $14,000, Covered by Insurance—Temporary Classrooms Are Obtained.

Fire which started about 4 a. m. Thursday, partly destroyed the two-story school building of the Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran Church Vinnebago street and Ohio avenue. The building, valued at $30,000, was damaged about $14,000, according to a fire chief's estimate. The insurance is $17,000.

After the flames had been subdued and while Lieut. Kennet Irwin of Engine Co. No. 38 was working on the roof the timbers gave way beneath him. He fell to the second floor, but was not badly injured.

The first fire alarm was telephoned by Miss Ella Pardieck, whose home is across the street from the school. Miss Pardieck said she was awakened by a violent ring of the front door bell. Looking out her window, she saw flames bursting from the second story.

The fire is supposed to have started from the furnace room, where the fires had been banked for the night. Pupils had held a Halloween party in the building the night before, but all lights were carefully extinguished, the janitor said.

Belfry May Collapse.

By a curious freak of the flames, half of the belfry of the building was burned away and the other half left standing. Firemen expected this to collapse at any time.

The school numbers 320 pupils. Most of these were at the building by 8:30 a. m. There was much rejoicing when they learned three athletic trophies won by the school had been saved. Two were baseball cups and one was a basket ball cup.

J. C. Heidelberg, one of the directors, immediately began arrangements to transfer the classes to the Southwest Turner Hall, Ohio avenue and Potomac street, until the school building can be repaired.

DIVORCED WIFE RETURNS; BARS MAN FROM HOUSE

Corwith C. Wagner, Broker, Testifies in Suit to Oust Woman and Collect Rent.

A suit in forcible entry and detainer to oust his divorced wife, Florence E. Wagner, from his home at 8 Yale avenue, University City, was filed Thursday in Justice Willecken's court at Clayton by Corwith C. Wagner, a St. Louis broker. He asks that his former wife be put out, and that he be given judgment for $50 damages and for $70 a month rent until the home is surrendered to him.

The home is a 10-room residence in which the Wagners lived before they were divorced. Wagner lived there after the separation, he told Justice Willecken, until Oct. 10, when he went home and found his wife in possession. He has been barred out since then, he said.

Mrs. Wagner obtained a divorce in February on the ground of cruelty, and was given custody of their son, Peter Wagner, and $40 a month alimony. The marriage took place in 1907.

Six Busch Heirs Get $1000 a Day Each

They Will Pay $15,000 Income Tax

Eldest Son's Income $2000 a Day

Son, Under Adolphus Busch's Will, Is to Control Four Principal Industries.

LIEUT. SCHARRER CUT OFF

Trustees, Widow, Son and Nagel Have Fullest Authority in Making Investments.

An income of approximately $2000 a day will fall to August A. Busch and incomes of $1000 a day to his mother, Mrs. Adolphus Busch, and each of his five sisters, under the will of Adolphus Busch, filed Wednesday afternoon.

The will, which creates a trusteeship, divides the $50,000,000 estate, with the exception of $210,000 for charity and $20,000 for two women employes, among Mrs. Busch, August Busch and the daughters, Mrs. Jacob Loeb, Mrs. Hugo Reisinger, Mrs. Edward A. Faust, Mrs. Paul von Gontard and Mrs. Eduard Scharrer. Mrs. Busch and each daughter get one-eighth apiece.

August A. Busch receives, in addition to his own one-eighth, the equal share which his invalid brother, Carl Busch, would receive but for his helpless condition. He is required to care for Carl, spending on him whatever is needed, up to $12,000 a year.

An officer of the Busch corporations said Thursday that the estimated income of the Busch estate was $3,000,000 a year, or a 6 per cent return on a $50,000,000 valuation. Divided by eight, this would make the income of each share equal $375,000 a year, with August's share $750,000, less the amount which he may spend on Carl. An income of $375,000 a year means more than a $7000 a week, but the expenses of administration will reduce this somewhat. The estimate of the estate's value as $50,000,000 also was sanctioned by Attorney Daniel N. Kirby, who filed the will.

The oldest and youngest daughters, Mrs. Loeb and Mrs. Scharrer, are restricted as to the use of their incomes, and the trust, whose duration is not otherwise stated in the will, is to continue, for them, so long as either of them lives. Neither is ever to receive more than $100,000 of her share of the principal, though their three sisters may obtain all or any part of their shares when the trustees think best.

A person closely connected with the family said Thursday that all the heirs were aware, since the drawing of the will nearly five years ago, of the provisions made for them. Mrs. Loeb and Mrs. Scharrer, this person said, were satisfied with their father's action in relieving them, for life, of the cares of business administration.

Inventory Ready in Four Weeks.

No trust corporation will be formed, it was authoritatively stated. An inventory of the estate will be filed in about four weeks, although the law allows 60 days for such filing. The policy of the Anheuser-Busch brewery and other Busch business institutions, as heretofore conducted, will be continued in every respect, it is stated.

No provision is made for any of the 18 grandchildren, except in the clauses which give the share of any of the daughters, in the event of her death, to her husband and children equally, or, if no child shall survive, gives the husband one-fourth and the other surviving Busch heirs the remaining three-fourths.

A codicil excluding Lieut. Eduard Scharrer, husband of the former Wilhelmina Busch, from the privilege of inheriting such a one-fourth share, was explained as being due to a peculiarity of German law. The Scharrers live in Germany, and if Mrs. Scharrer were to die there, he could claim all her estate, regardless of the one-fourth limit. For that reason, it was explained, and not because of any personal ill feeling, her share was made independent of him.

Mrs. Busch, whose golden wedding was celebrated three years ago, is 69 years old.

August Anheuser Busch, eldest son and chief heir, is 48 years old and has one married son and four other children. By the terms of the trust, he comes into control of a much wider range of business enterprises than Adolphus Busch ever actively directed. He is, by the working of a voting trust, to have full power over the business affairs of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, the Manufacturers' Railway Co., the Busch-Sulzer-Diesel Engine Co. and the American Bottle Co.

Of these concerns, the engine plant and the railway, in its recent expansion into a terminal system, have been built up by August A. Busch, and never were actively managed by his father. The son's services in building up these enterprises is recognized in codicils to the will, which direct the three trustees to vote the stock of the four concerns in conformity with August Busch's wishes, and to elect such directors and officers as he may desire. It is specifically provided that he is to be head of the brewing company, and that he shall have the right to buy any or all of the shares of the other three companies held by the trust.

August Busch is one of the three trustees, his mother, Mrs. Lilly Busch, and Charles Nagel, legal adviser of the Busch family and former Secretary of Commerce and Labor, being the two others. As executors, Mrs. Busch, Nagel and Edward A. Faust, a son-in-law,

Six Busch Heirs to Pay $15,000 Income Tax; A. A. Busch $30,000

AN interesting fact in connection with the distribution of the Busch fortune is that each of the heirs, it is estimated, will have to pay to the United States approximately $15,810 a year as an income tax, except August A. Busch, who will have to pay twice that, as he gets two shares of the estate.

As each of the heirs, except August, will receive an estimated income of $375,000 a year from the Busch enterprises, the aggregate income tax will amount to $126,480 a year. This income must be collected at its source, and paid by the corporations from which it is derived direct to the United States Internal Revenue Collector. The heirs living abroad will be subject to the income tax the same as those living in this country, as virtually all the income is derived from American enterprises.

CONGRESS MEMBER OPPOSES GIFT TO WHITE HOUSE BRIDE

Democrat Holds Present Would Be "Bad Taste" and Offers Congratulatory Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Republican Leader Mann's plan for subscriptions from Congressmen to a wedding gift for Miss Jessie Wilson was denounced in the House today by Representative Gray, Democrat, of Indiana, who said the movement was "in exceeding bad taste."

Gray declared few of the members knew the bride-elect and he offered a resolution declaring the members of the House "extend to Miss Wilson, on approaching the great step in life's highway, their healthiest congratulations and well wishes as a symbol of the solicitude of this great nation for the happiness and welfare of all our people."

No action was taken on the resolution. While Mr. Gray was speaking he waved a check for $5, which he said he would give to "some little poor child who at Christmas time peers through the windows of a toy shop."

"I wish to absolve myself," said Gray, "from the movement to give the President's daughter a wedding present. This is in bad taste, and I am sure it has for its foundation only a desire to attract attention—a morbid desire for recognition. I think it especially bad taste, an indiscretion, and a piece of unwarranted assumption to tender the lady any trinket. Except for a few members, none of us is a close personal friend to this family.

"It is proper to recognize the coming wedding, if at all, only as an official act, and the way the House can properly perform its part at the coming wedding would be through a resolution.

Representative Pou of North Carolina objected to any consideration of Gray's resolution.

O. Mann, as Republican leader, ended the incident with a statement that it would be "hopeless to try to put into Mr. Gray's soul the expression which finds itself in the heart of every other member of this House. Other members do not need to be told why."

Invitations Are Being Sent Out for Miss Wilson's Wedding.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Invitations for the White House wedding, Nov. 25, are being addressed. The invitations are engraved simply and read:

"The President and Mrs. Wilson request the pleasure of the presence of —— at the wedding of their daughter, Miss Jessie Woodrow, to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre, on Nov. 25, nineteen hundred and thirteen, at half after four o'clock at the White House."

The number of invitations has not been decided and detailed plans for the wedding are not yet ready for announcement.

WIDOW FOUND NOT GUILTY OF KILLING ADMIRAL EATON

Jury at Plymouth, Mass., Gets Case at 6 P. M. and Returns Verdict at 5:10 A. M.—Crowd Waits in Court All Night.

Jurors Ask Meeting With Defendant and in Thanking Them She Shows Emotion for First Time.

She Hopes Her "Tribulations Are Ended"—Lawyer Says Her Bearing on Stand Won Acquittal.

By Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 30.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton was acquitted of the charge of murdering her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, by verdict of the jury returned at 5:10 a. m. today.

The jury retired at 6 last night. Notwithstanding that there seemed little prospect, as the night wore on, of a verdict before morning, nearly 200 persons, a few of them women, sat out the tedious night. Mrs. Eaton awaited the verdict composedly and smiled when she heard the foreman of the jury pronounce her "not guilty."

Mrs. Eaton had sat up in a private room at the courthouse until 2 o'clock this morning. Then she was permitted to go to the Judge's lobby, where she slept on a couch until awakened at 4:30 and summoned to the courtroom.

After the foreman had announced the verdict, Chief Justice Aiken warned the jurors to keep secret the proceedings in the juryroom.

Jurors Ask to Meet Her.

After Mrs. Eaton had left the courtroom the jurors, through their foreman, asked that they might be allowed to meet her.

The permission was granted and they formed a semi-circle in the corridor. Mrs. Eaton came out from the Judge's lobby and thanked them individually. As she did so she burst into tears for the first time since her trial started. A little later Mrs. Eaton gave out the following statement:

"I am glad most of all because of my aged mother and my lame child, both of whom need me. I shall go home today. I hope that a new life will be opened to me and that the tribulations which have been mine in the past are ended."

Her chief counsel, Mr. Morse, said:

"It was Mrs. Eaton's appearance in the stand, an unusual event in any capital case and a remarkable one where a woman was on trial for her life, which decided the defendant's innocence in the minds of the jurors. The verdict was what we expected. It frees an innocent woman, but leaves as a mystery the end of the Admiral, her husband. For six months I have tried to find out what was behind the poison which caused his death, but my investigations have developed no satisfactory explanation. It must probably remain a mystery."

Admiral Eaton, a native of Alabama, received a medal of honor for his conduct in the battle of Santiago. As commander of the transport Resolute, he informed Admiral Sampson that the enemy's fleet was leaving Santiago Bay. He was retired in 1905 after 2 years' service.

Because of the prominence of Rear Admiral Eaton, the trial of Mrs. Eaton, who was the second wife, attracted country-wide interest. Her daughter, Dorothy, was a witness against her.

After his retirement he settled down on a little chicken farm at Assiniput, where he died March 4. Mrs. Eaton was arrested March 19. The trial began Oct. 14.

Seven Hours of Argument.

A great part of yesterday was taken up with the arguments of counsel, the charge of Judge Aiken occupying only half an hour.

William A. Morse, counsel for Mrs. Eaton, spoke for four hours, and District Attorney Albert F. Barker's argument occupied three hours.

Not guilty; not guilty by reason of insanity; guilty of murder in the first degree; guilty of murder in the second degree, Judge Aiken, in his charge, said were four verdicts possible.

He explained that a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" carried with it "an order from the Court committing the prisoner for life to an insane asylum." In connection with a verdict of "murder in the first degree," the Judge said the jury must be satisfied that there was deliberate premeditation.

Judge Aiken commented upon the fact that the Eaton case is unique in that the State is the party contending that the defendant is of unsound mind.

"Malicious intent must be proved, but a motive is not necessary," the Court added.

Various exhibits, including bottles of arsenic and letters written by Mrs. Eaton were taken to the jury room in accordance with the instructions.

EXPERTS AGREE ON ONLY ONE QUESTION ON RITUAL MURDER

Russian Physicians United in Opinion That More Than One Person Killed Boy.

23 QUERIES PUT TO EACH

And All Differ on Whether Object of Slaying Was to Get Blood and Inflict Pain.

KIEV, Oct. 30.—Physicians, placed upon the witness stand to give expert testimony in the trial of Mendel Beilis, charged with the ritual murder of the Christian boy, Yushinsky, hopelessly disagreed in their opinions as to whether the prime object of the murder was to obtain as much blood as possible and to inflict torture. They did agree on only one point—that more than one man participated in the killing.

The Imperial Court surgeon, Dr. Pavloff, combatted the theory of blood-getting, but admitted that the experts had little on which to base their theories because of the incompetent manner in which the two post-mortem examinations had been made and the incomplete reports submitted relative to these.

Dr. Tutanoff of Kiev University testified that at least two-thirds of the boy's blood had been drawn off. There were several lively tilts between Dr. Pavloff and M. Zamislovsky, counsel for the Black Hundred. The latter intimated on one occasion that the court surgeon had been superannuated. He was told, however, that the court surgeon now performs 400 operations annually.

Answering the 23 questions given to them yesterday by the president of the court, the experts were divided on all points except as to the number of assassins engaged in the crime, which they fixed at not less than two, and the theory that the murderers had no knowledge of anatomy.

Prof. Kosortoff, who supported the blood-getting and torture theory was of the opinion the wounds, except the stab through the heart were inflicted before death supervened. He had no reason to believe, he said, that Yushinsky had lost consciousness during the fifteen minutes which probably elapsed between the infliction of the first wound and the completion of the crime.

Prof. Kosortoff concluded with the statement that the hairs found on the dead boy's clothes came from a long, curly beard, and could not belong to Beilis, whose beard was short, stiff and straight.

PE-RU-NA DID WONDERS FOR ME.

MRS. ROSA BOYER

Mrs. Rosa Boyer, 1421 Sherman Av., Evanston, Ill., writes: "If any one has reason to praise Peruna it is surely myself.

"Last Spring I became so run down from the serious effects of a lingering cold, that several complications united in pulling me down. I could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit.

"I finally tried Peruna, and it did wonders for me. In two weeks I was like another person, and in a month I felt better than I ever had before.

"I thank Peruna for new life and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peruna has done for me."

Some people find it more convenient to take tablets than fluid medicines. This is especially true of busy men who have some catarrhal affection, or some trouble with the stomach that does not actually prevent them from working as usual. We have had the Peruna made into tablets for those who prefer to use them that way.

BOARD BILL WARRANT FOR "GOLD MINE OWNER"

Former Landlord Says W. L. Shull Represented He Had $52,000 in Bonds.

A warrant charging W. L. Shull and his wife of 633 Hamilton avenue, with obtaining board under false pretenses was issued by Prosecuting Attorney Sidener Thursday. It is the first warrant issued under a new statute which went into effect last June.

Edward Gildersleeve of 5340 Goodfellow place alleges that about a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Shull went to his home to board. Shull, he said, told him he was a gold mine owner and had $52,000 worth of Government bonds. Because of these statements he permitted them to run up a board bill of $91. They moved to the Hamilton avenue address two weeks ago.

DYNAMITERS HIRED BY M'NAMARA AND HOCKIN, SAYS KRUM

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Herbert S. Hockin was held to share with John J. McNamara the whole responsibility for the labor dynamite plots, by attorneys who argued the appeal of the other convicted men before the United States Court of Appeals today.

Hockin, sentenced to six years' imprisonment at Leavenworth, is the only one of the 33 men convicted at Indianapolis last December who is serving out his term without appealing. During the trial he was accused of betraying coconspirators and later was abandoned by the other defendants.

Attorney Chester H. Krum, counsel for Frank M. Ryan and 29 other appellants, asserted before the court that Hockin and McNamara alone within the ranks of the iron workers' union undertook to destroy by dynamite the work of open-shop contractors.

It was these two men alone, Krum said, who employed Ortie McManigal and James B. McNamara to travel about the country and set off dynamite. McManigal was a member of the iron workers' union, but was not an official, as were Hockin and J. J. McNamara.

Krum said President Ryan of the iron workers' union and the 29 other convicted men knew nothing of the dynamite plots carried on secretly by Hockin and McNamara, the secretary.

flat in New York," was the reply.

"You wanted a companion, too, did you not?"

"Yes, an actress whom I knew real well, was stopping with me at the time, and we wanted to go to housekeeping together."

Mrs. Moseley said she preferred to live separate from her father, because he, on several occasions, established the family in cheap boarding houses.

"Didn't you reside at the Beers and the Buckingham?" asked Smith.

"Oh, that was when I was living with Grandmother Bogy," was the reply.

"To what cheap boarding houses do you refer?"

"The one on Seventy-second street in New York, chiefly," she said. "My father's sister would not live there."

Asked if her father had not sent her as much as $2000 on one occasion, she replied she never received more than $20 at a time from him except once, when he sent her $100 as a Christmas present. She said her total allowance both before and after her marriage never exceeded $80 a month.

Mrs. Moseley was attired in a white tailor-made suit, white shoes and stockings and a large black felt hat trimmed with bright red satin.

Mrs. Moseley, formerly Miss Violet Bogy, was married to A. G. Moseley Jr. of St. Louis in Fort Meyer, Va., in the summer of 1912. She was visiting in Fort Meyer and he was visiting in Washington, when he went over to visit her and the marriage followed. For several months Mrs. Moseley was on the stage.

SOFA HE THREW OFF ROOF PULLED WORKMAN DOWN

Frank Klasek Fell 40 Feet and Probably Was Fatally Injured.

Dragged from the roof of a 40-foot building by a piece of furniture he had carelessly tossed to one side, Frank Klasek, 23 years old, a tar roofer of 1717 Lafayette avenue, was probably fatally injured Thursday morning.

Klasek and some other workmen had begun work on a two-and-a-half-story building at 1113 Dolman street. They found an old couch, which had been abandoned by some tenant and left on the roof. Klasek dragged the couch to an edge of a roof and gave it a shove.

The end of a wire spring hanging from the couch caught in his heavy blouse. Klasek was partly off his balance by the impetus of the shove, and the heavy couch pulled him over after it.

He was picked up unconscious and rushed to the city hospital. Physicians said his jaw had been broken on the right side, his right arm had been broken and he had received a serious abdominal injury.

GIRL TRIES TO END LIFE BY MERCURY AS HER SISTER DID

Mrs. Zelma Phelps, Separated From Husband, Takes 110 Grains of Poison.

DESPONDENT, SHE SAYS

Starts to Walk to Mother's Home and Is Overcome on Way by Drug.

Mrs. Zelma Phelps, 17 years old, of 1107 Montgomery street, swallowed 110 grains of bichloride of mercury Wednesday night and was taken to the city hospital. Her condition is serious. Less than a month ago her sister, Beatrice Stevens, 14 years old, died at the city hospital from bichloride of mercury poisoning after she had swallowed the poison in the hope of causing a reconciliation of her parents.

Despondent Because of Separation.

Mrs. Phelps told attendants that she took the mercury because of despondency due to being separated from her husband and her 14-months-old child. The child now is with her husband, who lives in Prospect Hill, St. Louis County. Phelps and his wife were married about two years ago and have been separated several weeks.

Mrs. Phelps took the poison at her home and started to walk to the home of her mother, Mrs. Martha Stevens, at 2723 North Broadway. When she reached Thirteenth street and St. Louis avenue, she called Elmer Buries, an acquaintance, from a saloon and asked him to accompany her to her mother's home. She told him she had taken the poison.

Parents Not Reconciled.

Before they arrived at her mother's residence, Mrs. Phelps had begun to show the effects of the drug, and she was hurried to the city hospital.

Lawrence Stevens, father of the woman, lives at 2100 North Broadway. He and his wife have been separated for some time but met at the bedside of their daughter, Beatrice, in the hospital, and were with her when she died Oct. 1. The death of the girl failed to bring about a reconciliation between the couple.

Mrs. Phelps asked nurses at the hospital to have her baby brought to her bedside. Hospital attendants communicated with Mrs. Stevens, and asked her to try to get the baby from Phelps' relatives and bring it to the hospital.

Negro Robs Girl of $15.

A negro robbed Mrs. Julia Copelan, 1437 Blair avenue, of her handbag containing $15 and the keys to her home about 6.45 p. m. Wednesday. She was walking home when the thief jerked the bag from her hand and ran down the alley.

ARTILLERY IS SENT TO STRIKERS' CAMP TO MAINTAIN PEACE

Detachment From Two Colorado Batteries Moves to Ludlow, Center of Disturbance.

By Associated Press.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 30.—A detachment of artillery from Batteries A and B of Denver, in command of Capt. Le Fevre, left here this afternoon, under orders from Gen. Chase to move in the direction of Ludlow, the center of the recent disturbances.

Unless an outbreak occurs the detachment probably will spend the day in reconnoitering and return to Trinidad tonight.

Quiet prevails at the Aguilar and Ludlow tent colonies, but large numbers of strikers are said to be in the hills of Ludlow and South of Aguilar. Shots were fired into Tabasco early today, but no damage was done.

At Walsenburg two troops of cavalry have been placed on patrol duty. The work of gathering up the arms of the strikers was carried forward systematically.

Coincident with the arrival of the State militia in the strike zone of Southern Colorado, more disorders have occurred throughout the district than had been reported previously during any one day.

The most serious outbreak on the part of the strikers was the rifling and burning of the postoffice at Aguilar by strikers after they had defeated a small group of mine guards in a battle at the mine of the Southwestern Fuel Co.

A special contest in which the riding, instead of the mounts, will be judged will take place Thursday night at the Horse Show in the Coliseum. R. A. Long of Kansas City, father of Miss Loula Long, one of the best-known horsewomen in the country, will ride against Paul Brown for a silver cup donated by M. L. Mrs. Charles Kron won the ladies' harness class Wednesday night, driving Ebony Girl, owned by J. R. Thompson of Chicago. Miss Loula Long won the harness pairs class with Revelation and Realization, and took the tandem contest with Revelation and Hesitation. She won the gaited saddlers' ribbon with Kentucky Best. E. D. J. A. Dillon, father of the husband, was a witness for his daughter-in-law. He said his son had been teaching school at Clinton, Ill., and last May went West. AUGUST A. BUSCH GETS CONTROL OF CHIEF INDUSTRIES are named. If a vacancy occurs among the trustees, Faust is to fill it. If one occurs among the executors, Busch is to fill it. If the number of trustees is reduced to two, the two shall continue to execute the trust, but if only one remains, the St. Louis Union Trust Co. shall become a trustee, and it may continue after the death of the other trustee, as sole trustee.

Will Gives Him Wide Power in Brewery, Railroad, and Engine and Bottle Works.

As explained by lawyers familiar with the rather complicated arrangement of executors and trustees, their relations will work out in this manner: The executors will first have power to fulfill the charitable bequests, amounting to $210,000, and the two personal bequests to women secretaries, $20,000, and to provide for Mrs. Busch's expenses at the rate of not more than $50,000 a year, pending settlement of the estate.

With these deductions made, the trustees will have full power over the estate, and will handle its properties and funds, but they will turn over the income to the executors, who will make the distribution.

Except for the requirement that they shall vote the stock of the four companies as directed by August Busch, the trustees have remarkably wide powers. It is made virtually impossible, lawyers believe, for any of the five daughters or their heirs to contest the acts of Mrs. Busch, August Busch and Nagel. The will states that the trustees shall have power to invest money, to sell or exchange property, to borrow money, to make leases, and to place the funds "in any kind of real or personal property or securities which they shall deem wise, even though it be of a kind not ordinarily deemed suitable for the investment of trust funds. They also have power to place valuations on the property for the purposes of distribution, in order that distributions may be made without reducing the property to cash.

Empowered to Make Donations.

The will directs that, so long as Mrs. Busch continues to be one of the executors, the executors shall not be required to give any bond. The matter of bond for the trustees apparently is left to the court, nothing being said in the will about it.

The executors are empowered, during such time as the estate is in probate, to expend such amounts out of the estate "as they may deem reasonable and advisable, as donations or contributions to persons or causes through which my executors think a direct or incidental benefit will result to any part of my estate." The trustees, so long as they hold any undistributed part of the estate, shall have like power to expend and donate for the benefit, direct or incidental, of the estate.

This is interpreted to refer to various forms of entertainment, donations in the form of advertising, contributions to campaign funds or to anti-prohibition movements.

Executors Get 5 Per Cent.

The fees to be paid to the trustees will be fixed by the court. The joint fee of the three executors is fixed by law at 5 per cent of disbursements, not of the total estate. Their fee will form a prior claim against any disbursement, including those made for charitable purposes.

For disbursing an income of $3,000,000 a year, the executors get $150,000, or $50,000 each, amounting to an added income of nearly $1000 a week for Mrs. Busch and the same for Faust and Nagel. When any large part of the principal is given to any heir or heirs, the executors' fee would be correspondingly increased, to be diminished later by the cessation of income payment on that particular part of the estate.

The charitable bequests made in the will amount to $170,000, but a memorandum left with the will, requesting gifts to the amount of $40,000 more, will be treated by the executors as part of the will. The charitable bequests are:

$10,000 Each to Secretaries.

The personal bequests are $10,000 to Miss Alvina Clementine Berg, Adolphus Busch's secretary, and an equal sum to Mrs. Busch's secretary and companion, Miss Anna Schumann.

The trustees are authorized to give three of the daughters, Mrs. Reisinger, Mrs. Faust and Mrs. Von Gontard, their full share of the estate whenever such action seems advisable, but the portions of Mrs. Loeb and Mrs. Schorrer are to be kept in trust for them and, in the event of their death, is to be divided among their surviving children.

If Mrs. Loeb, who has been three times married and is now a widow with one grandchild, should marry again and be survived by her husband, he would share with the children. Mrs. Scharrer and her husband have no children, and a codicil, drawn in June, 1912, provides that if Mrs. Scharrer dies before her husband, and leaves no child, her brothers and sisters shall divide her share.

LIEUT. SCHARRER GETS NO SHARE OF BUSCH FORTUNE

Brewer's Will Prevents Him From Getting Wife's Share if He Survives Her.

If Mrs. Reisinger, Mrs. Faust of Mrs. von Gontard dies before the settlement of the estate, her husband, if surviving her, shall share equally with the children.

Daughters Are Secured.

The discrimination made between the three other daughters and Mrs. Loeb and Mrs. Scharrer is explained by the statement that the provisions for the last two are "to secure to them certain sums and annual income beyond the accident of fortune or bad management on their part." It is provided that their income shall not be subject to any present or future debt, and that neither of them shall have the right to barter, sell or mortgage her interest in the estate, or to spend any installment of income until she receives it.

The Busch place residence property also was not included in the will, but the horses, carriages, automobiles, household furnishings and works of art were given to Mrs. Busch.

German Estate to Widow.

Villa Lilly, in Germany, and an adjoining estate of 1200 acres is left to Mrs. Busch, with $50,000 a year for her personal use. It is provided that Mrs. Von Gontard shall have first chance to purchase this estate if she desires to buy any portion of it, at a price to be agreed upon by the trustees.

The will was drawn Dec. 16, 1908, and was witnessed by Daniel N. Kirby, law partner of Charles Nagel, L. R. Osterhaus and Edmund V. Krug.

The first codicil, giving August Busch full control over the Manufacturers' Railway property, was drawn Dec. 8, 1910. It directed the trustees to hold the stock of the railway together as long as possible, and to conform, in voting the stock, with the wishes of August A. Busch.

Asks Heirs to Be Contented.

The second codicil, filed Dec. 28, 1911, made the same provisions as to the Busch-Sulzer-Diesel Engine Co. It also prescribed that advances made to the different heirs, or sums expended for them and charged against them in Busch's private accounts, shall be deducted from their shares. He asks any of the heirs, who may be dissatisfied with the workings of this provision, to "be happy and contented with the assurance that I have tried" to equalize matters.

The third codicil made the same provisions as to the American Bottle Co., and made the change exempting Scharrer from inheritance in case of his wife's death. It was added June 7, 1912.

Memorandum for $40,000 to Charity Found in Desk in Germany.

How near several St. Louis charitable institutions came to missing the amounts which they will receive from the estate of Adolphus Busch was told Thursday by a man familiar with Busch's affairs.

Busch had provided in his will a $50,000 bequest for the Altenheim, or German Home for the Aged, and $10,000 each for 12 other institutions. Shortly before he departed for Germany last summer he mentioned to his son, August, and a few others, that he had decided to include certain other charities in his will. "We'll talk about it when I get back to the United States," he said.

He did not allude to the matter again. After his death, there was found in his desk at Villa Lilly a neatly written memorandum bearing the names of Father Spigardi's, Father Dempsey's and Father Dunne's charities, with notations of $10,000 each opposite, and items amounting to $10,000 more for five negro institutions.

August Busch could interpret this memorandum only as meaning that these were the institutions which his father had meant to include in the will, and it was agreed that the memorandum should be treated as a codicil to the will. Had the slip of paper been overlooked, or its contents not understood, the eight institutions would have had no share in the estate.

Osterhaus Tells How the Busch Will Was Signed.

L. B. Osterhaus, a broker, with offices in the Fullerton Building, one of the witnesses of the Busch will, told Thursday of the circumstances under which the document was signed. Osterhaus, brother of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, was then an employe of the bookkeeping department of the brewery.

He said he was called into Busch's private office and found the brewer there with his attorney, Daniel N. Kirby, E. V. Krug and his private secretary.

"Do you think I am in my right mind?" he said the brewer asked him abruptly. On his reply that if he had Busch's mind he would be running the brewery, he was asked to sign the document. Busch first signed each of the 10 pages of the will, writing steadily, and the witnesses then signed.

University Would Get Only $1000 Under Liberal Application.

Under a liberal application of the statute it is not expected the Missouri State University will receive more than $1000 in collateral inheritance taxes from the Busch estate. The law exempts inheritances of lineal heirs and bequests to charitable and religious institutions. Accordingly, none of the Busch family's legacy can be assessed for a collateral tax and neither can charitable bequests.

There are only two bequests in the Busch will, which undoubtedly will be subject to the collateral inheritance tax of 5 per cent. These are the legacies of $10,000 each to Miss Alvina Clementine Berg, Adolphus Busch's private secretary, and Miss Anna Schumann, Mrs. Busch's companion.

Miss Berg Has Looked After Busch's Private Business Here.

One of the legatees remembered with a $10,000 bequest in the Busch will is Miss Aldina Clementine Berg of 3531 Flora court, who for 25 years had been Busch's private secretary. Miss Berg was one of the brewer's most trusted employes. She first entered the brewery as a stenographer, became Busch's personal stenographer and later his secretary.

For seven or eight years she accompanied him on all his journeys. More recently she has spent most of the time in St. Louis looking after his personal business. She had his power of attorney to sign checks. She distributed many of his smaller charities, passing on the cases herself and afterward notifying him of the donations. It is thought she may be made secretary to the trustees because of her intimate acquaintance with Busch's private affairs.

Anna Schumann, who also received a $10,000 bequest, for many years has been the confidential secretary and companion of Mrs. Busch.

C. A. Chapin Heirs Get $4,651,000.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The will of Chas. A. Chapin, who died here a week ago, filed today, disposes of an estate estimated at $4,651,000. The estate goes to the widow and seven sons and daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Helen Evelyn Chapin Bishop of Detroit. The heirs are instructed to devote $200,000 to charity.

Hendy Becomes Lindenwood Head.

Dr. J. F. Hendy, appointed temporary president of Lindenwood College at St. Charles, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Dr. George Frederick Ayres, assumed charge Wednesday. Mrs. Ayres, the widow, will continue as woman principal at the school, with Miss Alice Linnemann as assistant.

Try This Treatment for Hairy Growths

(Helps to Beauty)

A single application of a paste made by mixing together a little powdered delatone and water and applied to objectionable hairs for about 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off, takes with it every trace of hair or fuzz. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining paste and it will be firm and spotless. This is a quick, painless treatment, but its success depends greatly on using fresh delatone, which can be purchased only in original packages.—ADV.

TUESDAY CLUB WOMEN FIGHTING NEW PAROLE BILL

They Expect Measure to Lose in Council, but Will Ask for Veto if It Passes.

PRESENT LAW PREFERRED

Proposed Measure Makes No Provision for Merit Appointments or Woman Officer.

A fight on the new parole bill, passed by the House of Delegates, Tuesday night, was started, Thursday, by the Tuesday Club, a woman's organization. The women will carry the fight to the City Council, and to the Mayor if necessary.

The fight of the women on the new bill is based on the theory that it is not so desirable as the present parole law, which provides for a woman parole officer. No such provision is made in the new bill.

The present parole law was drafted by Police Judge Karl Kimmel, and had the active support of Mrs. Frank Steeg, member of the Commission on Charitable Institutions, Mrs. Frank de Garme, Mrs. W. H. Utter, Dr. Caroline Skinner and other members of the Tuesday Club.

Passed Over Protest.

The new bill was passed Tuesday night by the Gazzolo-Gallagher faction of the House of Delegates, despite the protest of Delegate McCarthy of the Legislative Committee, which had reported the bill adversely. The Tuesday Club members expect to get enough votes in the Council to defeat the bill, but if it should be passed by the upper house they will appeal to Mayor Kiel to veto it. The Mayor has said he would veto the bill if it should reach him.

Judge Sanders of the Dayton Street Police Court is sponsor for the new bill. Judge Kimmel sent to the House of Delegates 26 reasons why it should be defeated.

The new bill provides for the creation of two boards of parole instead of one, division No. 1 to be comprised of the Judge of the Municipal Police Court, the Mayor's secretary and a parole and probation officer appointed by the Police Judge, and division No. 2 to be constituted in the same manner, with the Judge of the Dayton Street Police Court a member with power to appoint the parole and probation officer.

Merit System Appointments.

The women regard the method of appointing the members of the board as a backward step, as the members of the present board were appointed under the merit system, after having taken competitive examinations. Miss Jessie Moller is an active member of the present board.

Mrs. Steeg said that the present Parole and Probation Board, comprised of two Police Justices, Kimmel and Sanders, the Mayor's secretary, chief probation officer and Superintendent of the Workhouse, has done efficient work.

Mrs. Steeg said that the new bill would give the Police Judges absolute control over the boards.

ANNE MORGAN GETS BY U. S. AIGRETTE HUNTERS

Customs Men Pass Hat When She Says Decorations Are Feathers of "Barnyard Fowl."

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Miss Anne Morgan landed today from the liner Imperator. Several decorations on her hat to mere man looked not unlike aigrettes.

As the customs inspectors have played havoc with aigrettes, several reporters stood about to watch how the Government shears would clip Miss Morgan's feathers.

Said the customs man to Miss Morgan: "Are those aigrettes, Miss Morgan?"

And Miss Morgan answered: "Those are quills from the tail of the domestic peacock, a barnyard fowl."

Miss Morgan still wore the feathers in her hat when she left the pier.

Six other women had to pass feathers over to the custody of the Government. In some cases the inspectors loaned the women penknives so that the stitching holding the feathers might be severed.

FOR A SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS OR DYSPEPSIA—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—ADV.

GATES FUNERAL TO BE HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

He Will Be Buried Beside His Father in New York Cemetery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The funeral of Charles G. Gates will be held at the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church here at 2:30 next Sunday afternoon. The special train from the West bearing Gates' body is expected to reach this city on Friday.

Gates will be buried beside his father in Woodlawn cemetery. Because the mausoleum erected by the Gates family is still in process of construction the body will be placed temporarily in the family vault with that of John W. Gates.

Gates' widow and his father-in-law, F. P. Hopwood of Minneapolis, left Chicago for New York yesterday.

WOMAN IN JAIL AS DISORDERLY SAYS SHE IS MRS. ALSOP

Hires Taxi Without Money, Arrested, Gives Name of Young Wife of Millionaire, 80.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Tripping from Maxim's restaurant late yesterday afternoon, a beautifully gowned young woman ordered a taxicab driver to take her to Bustanby's.

After Bustanby's she was driven to the Hotel Ansonia. The chauffeur, whose name was Courtney, found she did not live there and demanded his fare, $1.85.

"I'll just get you to drive me to the Waldorf, where I live," she laughed. "It's all right."

Courtney said he first must have the money. The two went to the street. A crowd gathered. Two patrolmen ran up, and when the young woman said she had no money they took her to the West Sixty-eighth Street Station. Asked her name she said:

"Mrs. Effie B. Alsop of New York and Pittsburg. I am the wife of Edward B. Alsop. He is at the Waldorf."

A charge of disorderly conduct was made.

Lieut. Sackett telephoned the Waldorf-Astoria for Edward B. Alsop, and half an hour later a man nearly 80 years old entered the station and asked to see the prisoner.

The young woman, who was found to be wearing jewelry estimated to be worth $9000, came out, threw her arms about the man and cried:

"Oh, daddy, oh, dad! I have committed no crime. Please don't let them take me away."

"No, little girl," he replied. "It will be all right."

The man then asked to be allowed to get bail for his wife. He was told she would not be admitted to bail, but sent to Night Court.

Edward B. Alsop is a multimillionaire steel manufacturer of Pittsburg. On Feb. 15, 1912, he married Effie Pope Hill, 22 years old, in Trinity Church.

Miss Hill met Alsop in 1910 in Toxaway, N. C., a resort owned by Alsop. Miss Hill was there with her mother, the widow of a physician who lived in Washington, Ga. Alsop had as rivals his sons, Hal and Ned Alsop, Harvard students.

The night of the wedding Alsop sent his bride to the Hotel Latham to be with her mother, while he joined his sons at the Waldorf. The sons are said to have received $1,000,000 each before the marriage.

PANAMA CANAL IS SAFE FROM ATTACKS BY SEA

Secret Tests Made by Fleet Show Enemy Could Not Get Near Enough to Locks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secret tests recently made by the third division of the Atlantic battleship fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Usher are said to have proved that the Panama Canal would be safe from the fire of an enemy's fleet, so far as the Gatun and other important locks are concerned.

The tests, started last winter, are declared to have shown that a fleet could not determine the location of the Gatun locks. It also was discovered that intervening hills rendered the locks almost immune from damage by bombardment from sea.

Extension of the breakwater on the Atlantic side has made it possible to mount long range guns so far out that the approach of an enemy's fleet could readily be checked. Elaborate plans also for the mining of the approaches of the canal on both the Atlantic and Pacific sides already have been completed.

AUTO SALE OFFER LEADS TO CONTRACTOR'S ARREST

Harry L. Hagerman, who had been held by the St. Louis police, was taken to Davenport, Io., Thursday, on warrants charging him with passing a worthless check and trying to sell a mortgaged automobile.

Hagerman, who was registered at the American Hotel as H. L. Lewis, was arrested Tuesday at a West End garage while trying to sell a touring car for $900. Investigation showed he had bought the car in Davenport.

The officers who came to take Hagerman back to Davenport said he was a building contractor there. He told detectives the charges were part of a conspiracy of lumber dealers to check his building operations.

COUNTESS SZECHENYI ON AMERICAN VISIT

Arrives With Husband for Vanderbilt Family Reunion—He Denies Reports of Discord.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—On the Imperator yesterday arrived Count Laszio Szechenyi and the Countess, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt. Their three little daughters were with them. They were met by Mrs. Willard D. Straight and Mrs. H. P. Whitney and left at once for Newport, where a Christmas family reunion is proposed. The Szechenyis will spend the winter with Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, mother of the Countess.

"I would never get well," writes Mrs. Jennie Cassady, of Bringhurst, Ind. "For years I suffered with different forms of womanly troubles, and had pains all over—especially in my head and back. I was not able to do my own work. My heart bothered me, and it seemed like everything I ate would turn sour. I suffered misery at intervals, and could scarcely drag around. After taking 6 bottles of CARDUI, in two months' time, it cured me. I recommend CARDUI to all my friends. I wish all suffering women would try it as I did, for they would certainly be benefited." BARTHOLDT TO ASK CONGRESS TO ACT ON KEOKUK RATES

Representative Promises to Start Investigation of Arbitrary on Electriciyt Charges.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt notified the Peoples' League Thursday by letter that he would ask a Congressional inquiry into the affairs of the Keokuk Dam Co., following the Post-Dispatch disclosure that instead of furnishing cheaper power in return for its perpetual franchise to use the Mississippi River, the company is furnishing power at a coal cost basis.

Bartholdt was the first of the three St. Louis representatives in Congress to respond to a resolution of the People's League asking the St. Louis delegation to arrange an investigation of the power company at Keokuk, Ia., with a view to regulating its earnings by amending the free charter granted in 1906 by the Government.

St. Louis public service corporations have been tied up in a 99-year contract to take 60,000 horsepower daily of the hydro-electric current, the price to be based on the market price of coal, a readjustment to be made every five years. The Post-Dispatch investigation revealed that this contract actually compels St. Louis to pay considerably more than the coal cost of production.

In addition to the present price of 4½ mills a kilowatt hour, admittedly more than the hydro-electric cost of production, these companies must pay an additional 2 mills to an intermediary corporation of St. Louisans, which takes the current from the dam company, transports it 10 miles and transforms it from direct to alternating current before delivering it to the consumers. This 2 mills charge has been said to amount virtually to an electricity arbitrary.

Promises Immediate Action.

Bartholdt's letter, addressed to the secretary of the league, read as follows:

"I am in receipt of yours of the 13d inst., relating to the Keokuk Dam Co., and shall certainly take up this matter at once. I am now investigating the question as to the jurisdiction of Congress, inasmuch as the National Government has no property rights in connection with navigable rivers, but only exercises control over navigation.

"The permit of Congress to build the dam was necessary only because of national jurisdiction over the subject of navigation. However, it is an interstate question and I think it would be well for Congress to look into it. If the company has not kept its promises as to prices there must be found some authority that can bring them to terms."

No Rate Provision Made.

According to officials of the People's League, Congress reserved the right to amend the charter of the dam company in 1906, and they assert that Congress can fix maximum rates of charge as one of the conditions on which the dam company may use the Mississippi River, a navigable stream. The original charter of 1906, to the Keokuk and Hamilton Water Power Co., made no provision for rates.

The charter has been transferred to the Mississippi River Power Co., a corporation controlled by the Stone & Webster Corporation of Boston. Current supplied to the Union Electric Light and Power Co. and the United Railways Co. in St. Louis is sold by the Keokuk company to the Mississippi River Power Distributing Co., a Missouri corporation, owned by the North American Co.

87 Profit Made Here.

The distributing company receives its current at Florissant, St. Louis County, and delivers it to other subsidiaries of the North American Co. at Page avenue and the city limits, paying $18 per horse power, and selling at $25 per horsepower, under a contract for 60,000 horsepower.

Officials of the People's League say the league will consider at its next meeting, filing a complaint against the rates charged by the distributing company alleging excessive earnings, with the Missouri Public Service Commission.

SALMON SHORTAGE LIKELY

Railroad Blasting Results in Death of 1,000,000 Fish.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Railroad blasting operations on a tributary of the Frazier River in Washington State having killed more than 1,000,000 salmon and prevented the spawning of several billion sockeye salmon eggs, the Department of Commerce announced today that the fish-loving American public might expect a decided shortage in a favorite article of food several years hence. Rocks dislodged by the blasting blocked the stream and caused the death of the ascending fish.

ASKS CITY TO BURY SON

Mother Is Destitute and Father Prisoner for Abandonment.

Mrs. Johanna Langler, 1549 South Third street, appealed to the police Thursday to have the city bury her 4-year-old son, Charles, who died Tuesday from diphtheria at the hospital for infectious diseases. She says she has no money.

Samuel Langler, father of the dead boy, is in jail on a charge of wife and child abandonment. Last May Mrs. Langler told the police her husband had sent her to New York with two of their children, telling her he would join her there. When he did not follow, she said, she returned to St. Louis, but he refused to live with her.

STRIKING GARMENT WORKERS TELL OF THEIR LOW WAGES

Four members of the committee of citizens selected at the solicitation of Miss Mary E. Bulkley, sociologist, met Wednesday at the City Club and heard members of the union present their side of the case in the garment workers' strike. The members of the committee who attended the meeting were: A. L. Shapleigh, president of the Business Men's League; Senator Michael Kinney, J. Lionberger Davis and Mrs. Josephine January.

The employers declined to send a representative to the meeting. J. W. Fiels, 5822 Cates avenue, talked for his fellow union men. He said he was making $12 a week when the strike was called, but that a year ago he had been making from $18 to $24 a week. He said the police harassed pickets for the union. He said one young girl had been struck and another knocked down by policemen. He said he had been kicked by a policeman and that a coworker was so roughly handled that he had to be taken to the City Hospital.

Josephine Casey and Ida Cash appeared for the girls concerned in the strike. They told of low wages and unfavorable working conditions. Davis said after the meeting that he was surprised at the statements made of extremely low wages.

Senator Kinney and Davis announced that they will prepare a bill to be introduced in the next General Assembly to provide for a more thorough inspection in garment factories as to sanitary conditions.

The testimony given Wednesday will be presented to the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration, which will be asked to come to St. Louis for a third time to consider the strike. Twice before the Arbitration Board has been in St. Louis to try to settle the strike, but the employers refused to take part in the proceedings.

WOMAN SAYS SHE WANTS PASTOR TO SUPPORT HER BOY

Actress Declares That, After Lad's Birth, She Found Minister Engaged to Another.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Members of the session or governing board of the First Presbyterian Church of Rutherford, N. J., are trying to find a woman who described herself as Mrs. Vassata Dalton, formerly a Klondike explorer and prospector and now an actress.

If they find her, they intend to have her appear in Rutherford, confront the Rev. Dr. Richard Earle Locke, pastor of their church, and repeat under oath certain charges she made against him to several members of the session.

If they decide that her story is trustworthy, they will be obliged to bring Dr. Locke to trial before the presbytery in Jersey City. If they decide she is wrong in her assertions, they probably will vote an expression of confidence in the clergyman. They feel this confidence.

"Out of a Blue Sky."

Mrs. Dalton appeared "out of a blue sky," to use a Rutherford phrase, and spread throughout the town the story that she had a son, 14 years old, living in Paris, and that she had come to Rutherford to demand that the Rev. Dr. Locke support the boy. She declared she had known the clergyman for 21 years, since he was a theological student in Boston, and that she was amazed when, returning from Paris after the birth of her boy, she found he was engaged to marry another woman—whom he did marry soon afterward.

She has since married, she admitted, and confessed to her husband there had been someone else in her life before she met him; but she did not tell him of the child. She told Rutherford that her husband was Dr. Henry S. Dalton, a medical practitioner, also a Klondiker.

She Visits the Pastor.

On a visit to Rutherford she saw the Rev. Dr. Locke after a Wednesday night prayer meeting at the First Presbyterian Church. She told several women she "couldn't get any satisfaction" from him.

Dr. Locke admits that Mrs. Dalton visited him, but he asserts she simply congratulated him, as an old friend, upon his happy marriage and his success in the church, and made no threats or accusations whatever.

FINANCIERS SAY POLITICS HAS DEPRESSED BUSINESS

Hill and Vanderlip in Chicago to Address Bankers on Proposed Legislation.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—James J. Hill of the Great Northern Railroad and Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, who arrived here today to deliver addresses to the convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, each declared that political agitation is checking the progress of business.

Hill said that timidity on the part of financiers was allowing a business recession to develop. "This is the time for men to show courage," he asserted. "If big men are not willing to accept their responsibilities they should lay them down. If responsible men would do their part the depression would not last. As for the politicians, it is useless to hope that they will put themselves out of a job by keeping quiet."

Vanderlip said that the hope of business men is for "sound legislation." "First, and above all," he asserted, "this country must not be committed to a policy of issuing fiat money to loan to banks." Vanderlip will speak tonight on the proposed banking legislation.

A Startling Sale of Silk Dresses

IN WHICH it is difficult, in fact, it is IMPOSSIBLE, to find words FORCEFUL enough to do them even scant justice. PUTTING IT MILDLY, it is far-and-away the biggest Dress sale we have ever had—and that means it is "HEAD AND SHOULDERS" above any Dress event ever attempted by any other house in the Middle West.

2000 Dresses, in Over 100 Styles, made to sell for $25, $35 and $40, Some Even as High as $50.00

The manufacturer had to meet a condition which meant disaster, unless he could raise $25,500 cash at once (that's what we paid for them). The manufacturer lost $20,000 on the transaction. So much for the purchase. We want to make a quick turn of the lot, and if we can sell the 2000 Dresses in 2 days, we'll be satisfied with a profit on Each Dress of $1.

Choice in One Lot at One Price, $13.75

Street, Afternoon and Dinner Dresses of Canton and Shantung crepe, crepe de chine, crepe meteor, silk poplin, silk and wool crepes. All the new high colors, as well as the staple and subdued shades are shown — Paprica, Tabasco, Mahogany, Hague Blue, Bitumen, etc.

A glance at the 7 styles shown below will serve to show that they are from a maker who makes up only fabrics of the better kind, and produces only styles that are original and high class. There are 100 other styles equally smart.

Seven of the more than 100 styles are shown here.

Sizes for Juniors and Misses 14 to 20, and Women 34 to 48 Bust Measurement

$13.75 There is positively not a correct fashion idea, fabric or color, of the season that is missing from this vast group. "Peg-top" skirts, "Tango" sashes and drapes, the back drape, side and front drapes, cutaway coat effects, vestees, Mandarin and drop sleeves, Colonial blouses, combination of plaid skirts and solid color coats, etc. Materials are silk poplins, Canton crepes, crepe de chine, meteors, silk and wool Shantung crepes, in every color and shade that has been shown with success this season, including the new subdued plaid effects and plenty of staple blues and black. The trimmings, pleated net ruffs, edgings of marabou, soft self shade and plaid girdles, Martha Washington chiffon fronts, frills, fine laces, crushed velvet, etc. $13.75

OBTAINS TWO CHICKENS AND $4 FOR NOTHING

Customer Fails to Return With $5 Bill for Hawker Awaiting Him.

George Schuesser, a hawker living at 2838 Lincoln avenue, was giving bargains in poultry Wednesday evening. He was selling fowls in front of 2236 La Salle street when a stranger played a foul trick. The stranger, a man about 23 years old, dark complexion and dressed in blue, bustled about examining the chickens and finally selected two.

"How much?" he inquired of Schuesser. "Half a dollar each," was the answer. "Cheap at that. I'll take 'em," said the man. "Now gimme change for a $5 bill and I'll bring the bill back. It's in the house."

Schuesser gave him the two pullets and four $1 bills. The man went into the yard of 2236 and disappeared. He was not known there, so Schuesser learned when he looked for his $5 bill.

"IDA THE SASSER" TELLS OF WOES OF GARMENT STRIKERS

She Says Girls in Wage Struggle Can't Live on Pay of Some Non-Union Workers.

"WE CAN'T GET JUSTICE"

Organizer and Other Leaders of Young Women Resent Police Interference.

When pretty, round-faced Mary Grossman walked into the striking garment workers' headquarters at Franklin avenue and Eleventh street, Wednesday afternoon, with her left eye in a bandage like that of the drummer boy in the picture of 1776—a gift from a husky girl strike breaker—Miss Casey, the organizer, turned to the girls of the union and said:

"Well, girls, we don't seem able to get justice from the courts, or the police or the bosses, but when someone hits as nice a little girl as Mary Grossman with a rock tied in a handkerchief, perhaps spoiling her beauty for life, I think the time has about come for us to defend ourselves."

A girl known as "Ida the Sasser" led in the cheering that greeted Miss Casey. "Lillie with the Wallop" said nothing, but her big brown eyes blazed.

"Live Wire" of the Camp.

"Lillie with the wallop" is Miss Lillie Bressler, 19 years old, of 1415 Wash street. She is not very tall, but she has a strong, handsome, courageous face and good width of shoulder. She denies that she has whipped any nonunion girl, although she has been arrested 10 times during the strike. But because it is known she has a "wallop" in either hand, if she wants to use it, she thinks the Judge always finds her guilty when a nonunion girl loses in a fair fight and she is arrested on the theory that she is the one most capable of heavy fighting.

"Ida the Sasser" is known to the others as "the live wire" of the strikers' camp. Her tongue strikes terror into bosses. She is said to have known some of them in Russia. Her real name is Ida Kash and she is 19 years old.

"You know, Benny," she told one of her former bosses, "your father was a shoemaker in Russia, and your father, Max, a horse dealer in Odessa. You know there isn't anything worse than a horse dealer or a shoemaker in Russia. And my grandfather was a rabbi and you know it. So why should you take 95 cents out of the dollar and give me a nickel for making those skirts? Why should you go to grand opera while I go to a hippodrome?"

Ida is a commander among the pickets.

Policeman's Vision Blurred.

"So you beat that union man up yesterday," the "Sasser" said to a policeman on watch in the strike district along Washington avenue.

"Sure, I had to use my club on him," returned the policeman, who grinned.

"You ought to be lynched," Ida said. "The minute you raise your club we ought to take you out and hang you."

The policeman started angrily toward Ida. Suddenly a girl's arm shot out and a fist landed on the policeman's right eye. In a flash the fist returned to his left eye. The big policeman didn't know who had hit him, but thought it was the "Sasser," because he had been looking straight at her. He saw double, however, after the blows on his eyes, and that made Florence Memling, 17 years old, and small, appear to him twice her size. He seized her and accused her of having blurred his eyesight.

The next morning at the trial in the Municipal Police Court, Florence, the "littlest" striker, was discharged, when it was demonstrated that she could not have assaulted the big policeman. With the tips of her fingers she could not reach the policeman's shoulder.

While some of the other strikers were telling the story to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "Lillie with the Wallop" had been in profound but apparently joyful meditation.

"That's the Way It Is."

"Yes," she said, "they arrested little Florence when it was I who hit him."

Then her face grew red as she realized she had made a confession. So she added:

"Well, that's the way it is. They always arrest me when I don't and they arrested somebody else when I did."

Why Attacks Are Made.

"But what are we going to do?" asked the "Sasser." "Those nonunion ones have got to be beat. It's the only reason they understand. We treat them nice and lady-like? Faugh! That's the way the bosses use to get them to work for nothing.

"And then the police will not let us talk to them. If we try to, the police always interrupt, or the boss sends a guard out of the factory with them, who speaks to us vilely in Russian and we have to go away in order not to hear what he says. The only argument the nonunion girls ever make to us is:

"Why should I, an American girl, go in a union with you Jews?' So there isn't anything to do but punch them in the nose."

The reporter can furnish an alibi for the "Sasser," "the Walloper" and others on what happened Wednesday. While he was talking to them, three young women entered the home of Nathan Schnurman, 1734 Biddle street, a nonunion garment worker.

Schnurman's wife looked on while the women wrecked the house. They pulled the dishes of the dining room table and smashed them on the floor. They threw plates at the walls, played catch with the tumblers, took the machinery out of the clocks and tore up the bed clothing.

"You're a Easy Bunch."

"But what is there for us to do?" asked Ida. "We cannot live on the wages which those gentiles are willing to work for. Before the bosses cut down the wages and brought on the strike, I was making $8 and $9 a week as a skirt finisher. I was paid five cents for each skirt and did 30 skirts a day. On each skirt I had to sew 12 pairs of hooks and eyes, fell the placket, baste the pleats, and work the design of a star in the center. Then the boss wanted to cut our wages to 1½ cents for new patterns of skirts that would require more time and on which we would have been able to make but 45 cents a day. When we told him we would not work for that money he said:

"Get out of here. You're a lazy bunch!"

"We are just flesh and blood and we have learned our trade and we have to make our living at it. We can't stand idly by and see gentile girls who are supported by others at home do our work for nothing."

Ida has been in the United States since 1906. With other members of her family she worked her way from place to place after leaving Russia, reaching America in eight months. She is one of the prettiest of the 200 Jewish girls who have been on strike since the middle of August.

J. JACKSON.—Will writer of letter signed "J. Jackson" please send his address to the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ISADORE YAWITZ.—Your complaint has been referred to School Supt. Blewett, for investigation.

The Garment Workers' Strike.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read with amazement the statements made by Miss Mary Bulkley who says she has "investigated" the garment workers' strike. She says wages here are only one-third of what are paid for the same work in New York. Inasmuch as the wage books of any manufacturer here show these uneducated, unintelligent Russian Jews are earning from $15 to $35 a week, her statement would imply that New York garment manufacturers are paying $45 to $105 a week for practically unskilled labor. She also states that a flat rate of 25 cents is paid for skirt making, in face of the actual fact that that is the lowest figure and work is always paid accordingly to difference in design and skill required. In my factory we pay from 25 cents up to $1 for this work. She states the gentiles have gone back to work and those who are still out are the "most skillful"—the Russian Jews. As a matter of fact these last are the least skillful and the statement she makes shows on its face that her information came from a Russian Jew.

If Miss Bulkley will take the pains to really investigate the situation she will find that these Russian Jews, led on by expert strike agitators (who live in the best hotels) are demanding a 47½-hour week (less than eight hours a day) in a sheltered, easy indoor occupation, in factories rigidly inspected and kept in the best condition by State factory inspectors, and demand for this practically unskilled labor $3 to $5 a day pay (which some are getting already) and the right—mark this—to prohibit the manufacturer from hiring or discharging help without the consent of the union. The manufacturers' side of the case appears never to have entered Miss Bulkley's head as, so far as I can learn, she has never seen a manufacturer, and she calls this "investigation."

GARMENT MANUFACTURER.

The Ghost of Penn.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In his Penn address, Oct. 25, President Wilson said: "And the spirit of Penn will not be stayed. You cannot set limits upon such knightly adventurers. After their own day is gone, their spirits stalk the world, carrying inspiration everywhere that they go and reminding men of the lineage, the fine lineage of those who have sought justice and the right."

Unfortunately there are so many inferior spirits stalking, and inspiring erroneously, that justice and right are yet far away. In the old Bible times some of these undeveloped spirits had to be driven out.

EZEKIEL.

Ezekiel Johnson.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

His thoughts turned backward (90 years from now),
Ezekiel Johnson, pausing at the plow,
Will wonder why we did some things we do
And wonder if the history is true
That tells him how the mass of men endured
Grave evils they might easily have cured;
Our public highways held in private hands;
Land-hungry paupers and man-hungry lands;
Schools teaching knowledge dead in Bacon's day;
Babes bred to toil and stalwart men to play;
The common stock of fuel held in fee,
Not by the public, but by two or three;
Man, boasting of his future life of bliss,
Accepting ape-like worried want in this.
St. Louis bowing humbly, without flurry,
Before the Big Cinch slogan, "I should worry;"
A mighty city brooding six long years
Beside its bridge's uncompleted piers.
These things and many more of similar kind
Will temporarily occupy his mind,
Until he shakes his head in solemn wonder
That man could rise far who could so blunder.
"G-i-d-d-a-p," he'll slowly drawl, and flick his mules,
Ezekiel, heir of sages—and of fools.

SPECTATOR.

Another Zoo Location Suggested.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Now that the people are waking up and everybody seems to want the zoo located in their part of town, permit me to put in my bid for a zoo in Tower Grove Park, which would be an ideal location and would be appreciated by everybody in South St. Louis.

I appeal to the Post-Dispatch, leader of all papers, to use your influence with the Zoological Society to have our future great zoo established in Tower Grove Park.

SOUTHSIDER.

ACTION, NOT DEBATE.

The movement within the Business Men's League to enlist that organization in a campaign for the completion of the free bridge is commendable. As the leading business organization of the city, its members as individuals and as a body should give vigorous support to the effort to take away from the city the reproach of the unfinished bridge and give the city the benefit of the completed structure.

Every citizen of St. Louis has a profound interest in the completion of the bridge.

Let us keep in mind, however, precisely what we want and the process by which prompt and satisfactory results may be obtained.

Mass meetings of citizens to press for action, suggested by former City Counselor Walther, might be valuable as a means of crystallizing public sentiment and bringing it to bear upon the municipal authorities. But discussions at mass meetings of the advantages of different proposed approaches, as he further suggested, would be worse than futile—it would check, not promote action.

What is wanted is action, not debate. We have had more than enough futile discussion of approaches. A mass meeting of citizens is not qualified to determine what kind of an approach shall be built or where it shall be located.

It is the height of folly to take votes at a mass meeting or at the polls on the design, material, cost or location of a bridge approach. These are questions for competent engineers to decide. They have been decided.

Concentrate the whole movement in the one issue—complete the bridge.

Another danger is the identification of the campaign with any one individual, organization, faction or newspaper.

All individual citizens, factions and organizations should unite for the one end—COMPLETION OF THE BRIDGE.

The movement should be popular in the broad sense.

We are tired of delay; we are tired of discussion; we are tired of factional squabbling; we are tired of selfish interests; we are tired of self-constituted experts; we are tired of ambitious demagogues; we are tired of municipal inaction.

WE WANT RESULTS; WE WANT ACTION; WE WANT THE BRIDGE COMPLETED.

FACTS IN THE GARMENT STRIKE.

A letter to the Post-Dispatch signed "Garment Manufacturer" speaks of the striking workers as rejecting "sheltered, easy, indoor occupation in factories rigidly inspected by State inspectors." One of the urgent claims of the strikers' champions is that this "sheltered, easy, indoor" occupation tends to tuberculosis and that the hours of labor should be shortened.

That the piecework rate on skirts varies from 25 cents to $1 according to the elaborateness of the design, is asserted in the letter. Champions of the strikers contend that a flat rate of 25 cents is paid which provides no greater wage for elaborate design than for plain work.

The letter shows how widely the parties to the labor controversy are separated on facts from which the merits of the strike must be judged. It emphasizes the suggestion that disinterested citizens use their best efforts for a settlement of the trouble. "Garment Manufacturer" should demand an arbitration that will bring out the actual facts and harmonize the differences.

WATERED STOCK.

James E. Allison, chief engineer of the expiring St. Louis Public Service Commission, told his City Club auditors Tuesday that watered stock in public utility companies is essential, "to divide the risk between the stockholders and the bondholders." He added: "It will never disappear."

Mr. Allison errs. The water in the stock of the Cleveland street railway companies disappeared, permanently, when that city forced reduction of fares from 5 cents to 3 cents. The water in the stock of street railway companies in European cities disappeared when the lines were taken over into municipal ownership.

To talk of financial "risk" in connection with an everlasting gold mine like a street railway monopoly in a modern big city is to provoke the mirth of the initiated. Mr. Allison gave his true opinion of this risk when he said:

"The United Railways Co. is the best piece of property in the United States. It is a huge money maker."

That the system is not adequate to the needs of St. Louis is due to its owners' desperate endeavor to make the earnings of its aisles and platforms validate the ocean of water in its stocks.

CHARLIE GATES.

What a lot of rot the routine obituarists write when a man dies—whether they regard him as a good man and high example or bad man and horrible example. It was a great day for these moralizers when Charlie Gates died. They are hanging their sober texts on him like funeral wreaths; smothering his bier with solemn warnings to young men.

Yes; Charlie's death, as well as the manner of his living, ought to be a solemn warning. It ought to be a terrible object lesson to myopic moralists who cannot look beneath the surface frailties into the heart of human nature.

Heaven knows he had some sweet impulses, Charlie did, and there was nothing mean about him! He "hit 'er up," hired specials, opened wine, played marbles for keeps; but he came a little nearer obeying the injunction "go and sell that thou hast and give to the poor" than some pious pillars of society who sit tight, shave notes at a quarter of one per cent over the market rate, never gambled in their lives, and forget that the essence and real practice of Christianity consist in loving your neighbor. The proportion of generosity to selfishness in Charlie was so overwhelming that it would be almost cruel to mention it in the presence of some boards of charities who have never seen a horse race. Charlie's kindliness was the big end of a 1000-to-1 shot as against any pettiness of character. He set a terrific pace, he was a horrible example to that genus homo yclept "tightwad." "A fool and his money, eh?" quotes the canny ascetic with the nature as sunless as sinless, who never tipped a menial with a smile.

Charlie was a good sport and he rayed sweetness and light as bountifully as he did $1000 tips and $10,000 presents to guides. There were rings on his fingers and bells on his toes and he made life gayer and brighter wherever he went. It is not every fellow, be he never so impeccable, never so prudent, never so exemplary, who can make as good an impression with his good qualities as Charlie Gates made with his bad ones.

THE REPEAL OF THE PAROLE AND PROBATION LAWS.

By KARL KIMMEL,
Judge of the First District Police Court.

What is the use of attempting to obtain progressive legislation in this city when one Assembly enacts ideas into laws which are for the benefit of the poor and friendless offenders in a community and the lower house of the next Assembly votes to repeal it without "rhyme or reason," and because of personal and political influence.

We could understand how legislation that might affect a political party, which involves some political issue, might be influenced to a passage or defeat by the representatives of that party. But we are unable to conceive why laws which create a system for the aid of the friendless can be wiped off the ordinance books without a qualm of conscience and without regret for those unfortunates which those laws are aimed to benefit.

The parole and probation laws applying to the police courts of this city, after a test of seven months, were voted by the House of Delegates to be repealed against all argument and practical proof of the success of the present system.

The records of the parole and probation department show that it has handled 618 cases to date, or on the average of 153 for each of the four officers. That it has collected directly and influenced the collection indirectly of $3300 to date. The money collected is turned over to dependent families of offenders who are brought into the police courts.

All of the members of the Board of Parole excepting one are in favor of maintaining the present system, and that member is not enough interested in the success of the system to come to the meetings of the board.

If one examines the bill proposed to repeal the present parole and probation laws, it will be seen that one-half of the system would be entirely destroyed without offering anything in its stead, that two boards would be created to accomplish one purpose, that one of the courts would be given no representation on the board at all, that the Superintendent of the City Workhouse would be entirely ignored, that a double system of records and accounts would have to be maintained, that no check could be kept upon what prisoners had been paroled by one board and what paroled by the other board, that the services of a woman probation officer would be lost to the courts, and that the relief of $2 each to paroled prisoners would be eliminated.

These are some of the effects which would flow from the repeal of the present laws, any one of which should justify a reasoning man who is guided by right motives and conscientious scruples to decide against their repeal.

When the Board of Parole acts upon the parole of a prisoner from the workhouse it is found in the majority of instances that the prisoner is without money, practically without clothing, without friends and without the ability to find immediate employment. The $2 that is given him is intended to keep him from starvation and to deter him from committing further offenses until he can obtain employment, or until employment can be obtained for him. For this purpose the board has an appropriation of $1000, an enormous sum to expend per year in the work of influencing men toward good citizenship, and yet the enemies of these laws are using as an argument that the city is to be saved money by their repeal. The entire appropriation for the present year, to be expended under the operation of these laws, is $6800, which includes every item of expense, the salaries of four probation officers included, and yet the opponents of these ordinances would have the public believe that the City Treasury is being pauperized to maintain them.

The police courts have jurisdiction over females from 17 years upward. Hundreds of cases appear upon the dockets of these courts each month in which women are interested, women who need the advice, the influence and aid of a woman probation officer. The woman probation officer who is a member of this department, in addition to doing the stenographic work of the office and for the board, looks after cases of female offenders who are placed on probation or who are paroled from the city workhouse. The enemies of these laws would have you believe that the work of a female probation officer is entirely superfluous and unnecessary, and therefore want her dispensed with.

There is not a day when this woman is not engaged in making investigations or finding employment for some helpless woman, or influencing others to stop the drink habit, others to earn a legitimate living, or placing others in institutions, thereby raising the standard of womanhood in this community by her influence and work for the neglected and friendless women who come into the police courts.

The present system of parole and probation as applied to our police courts was not a thought of a day. They were modeled after similar laws which have been in operation in Eastern cities for years. They are correct in theory, principle and practice. All of the courts are given equal representation on the board as now constituted and should work in harmonious co-operation, that their benefits may be bestowed upon the poor, unfortunate and friendless offenders. Neither jealousy nor political considerations should control and destroy a system which gives the poor man an equal chance with the rich for justice in the courts and for freedom to regain self-respect.

"WHAT DID YOU DO WITH YER OLD ONE, MISTER?"

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

MR. ANTWINE ON WAR WITH MEXICO.

"BY GUM, I hope we don't have any war with Mexico!" Mr. Antwine said. "I hate to see this country go into the comic opera business with them Latin-Americans, an' that's just what we will be doin' if war ever starts on the other side of the Rio Grande. We'll think we're better than the rest of them; but the world won't see any great difference between us, an' we will be 50 years livin' it down.

"If we do go into it, we ought to be consistent an' make it in fact like it is on the stage. We ought to make De Wolfe Hopper commander-in-chief, an' put in the field as brigadier-generals, corps commanders an' major domos such eminent artists as Montgomery and Stone. The navy we could turn over to Weber & Fields; the balloon an' aeroplane work to Lew Dockstader, and the general welfare of the flag to George M. Cohan.

"A war of that kind would save us. The civilized world would at once give us credit for being too dignified to engage seriously with any of the Latin-American states in actual war, an' the thing would end in the biggest laugh this old world has had since Aristophanes was alive."

Mr. Antwine chuckled in the depths of his beard. Everybody in the store was amused.

"That's good," said the postmaster. "Let's have some hard cider on it."

THE BETTER PART.

It's wiser being good than bad;
It's safer being meek than fierce;
It's fitter being sane than mad.
My own hope is, a sun will pierce
The thickest cloud earth ever stretched;
That, after last, returns the first,
Though a wide compass round be fetched;
That what began best, can't prove worst.
—Robert Browning.

It's braver being glad than glum;
It's better being warm than cold;
It's nicer to be glib than dumb;
It's luckier being young than old;
My own hope is that, after all
The eager faith or foolish doubt,
It may not be my fate to fall
In where I never can crawl out.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

It's finer to be kind than mean,
It's cleverer to be true than great.
Pure thoughts are nobler than unclean,
It's manlier to love than hate.
My own hope is through every shock
That comes as on through life I wend
That some day I may buy a stock
That really pays a dividend.
—Detroit Free Press.

It's better to be free than slave;
It's easier to loaf than work;
The sure way to an empty grave
Is always working like a Turk.
My own hope is that with a few
More years the way we're going now,
We'll get the work we're doing through,
And have more idleness, somehow.

The entire town of Paxinos, Pa., was sold under the hammer this week for debt. This reminds us that we are paying $380 interest every day on our free bridge bonds.

It is too bad about not being able to take one's wealth with one. Charlie Gates would have done something handsome for St. Peter.

Gen. Diaz is still on the battleship Louisiana trying to figure out how Gen. Huerta could have lost in the recent Mexican election.

Col. Roosevelt will cross the Andes. Before he gets done the South Americans will want to see Col. Wilson, who ran away from him in one of our national elections.

"Is he a failure?"
"He is from our point of view, but there is no telling what he sees."

THE CHIEF TRAIN DISPATCHER.

He started in to climbin'
An' they couldn't keep him down.
Like the car wheels go a rhymin'
Through the country an' the town—
This feller started loanin'
Time, the best he had to call
His own, an' he wuz ownin'
Uv a red yarn ball.

An' he jest kept on a-goin'—
Like the car wheels, more er less,
Climbin' hills, an' never showin'
That his pluck wuz gettin' less,
Fer it wuzent, nary minit,
Cus no matter how he'd fall,
He'd bounce up again—to win it—
Like his red yarn ball.

It wuz mighty aggravatin'
Fer this feller, I suppose,
Jest to keep right on a matin'
His pluck against the rows
Uv things that's always raisin'
Up, like horses in a stall,
But he thought, as I'm surmisin',
'Bout his red yarn ball.

Why, he'd tackle any trouble.
If 'twas wearin' hoofs an' tail.
Take 'em one, er take 'em double,
An' it seemed he couldn't fail—
So he kept right on a movin',
An' a makin' friends with all,
Jest the same as when a provin'
Out his red yarn ball.

An' now his toys is coaches,
An' engines, steamin' hot;
An' people, thick as roaches
In our kitchen, like as not,
While Time looks on, approvin',
Leanin' back against the wall,
An' in his hand a movin'
'Round a red yarn ball.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HEALTH HINTS.

S. N. M.—High blood pressure indicates hardening of arteries. Any physician will make the test.

WORRIED.—For "rumbling stomach" try careful study of diet. Try eating but one or two foods at a meal. Exercise every muscle, especially of the abdomen. Abdominal massage may help.

M. G.—Foods said to digest in 1 hour: Baked sweet apples, stewed green apples, bean puree, boiled brains, boiled celery, whipped fresh raw eggs, fish not of fat varieties, boiled rice, boiled sago, stewed spinach, boiled salmon, boiled tripe, boiled trout, grilled venison, macaroni, roast beef, cornstarch, lamb, oysters, potatoes.

ANX.—To fumigate: Buy 1 pint formalin for each 800 cubic feet of air space. Close large openings, such as doors, windows, ventilators, fireplaces. Sprinkle floor, walls and all furniture and bedding with excess of water. Make things sloppy. Open all closet doors. String clothes lines across room. Wring sheets in hot water. Put formalin on the sheets, 1 pint for each 800 feet of air space. Leave room unopened eight hours, then throw open windows and air house several hours. Scrub and clean exceptionally well.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

IDA.—Some reader may send in for you a peanut cluster recipe.

W. H. R.—Leave vaseline on scratched furniture a day or two, then rub with a cloth.

J. M.—Nickel polish: Powdered pumice stone and sweet oil. Rub. Polish with soft woolen.

MRS. S. E. A.—To clean furs, Russian method: Some rye flour is put into a pot and heated upon a stove, with constant stirring as long as the hand can bear the heat. The flour is then spread over the fur and rubbed into it. After this the fur is brushed with a very clean brush, or better, is gently beaten until all the flour is removed.

HOUSEKEEPER.—Brass bed: Remove all old lacquer with wood alcohol, then polish to the desired luster with a good metal polish, such as the kind used for polishing the brasses of a motor car. When properly polished the brass can again be lacquered. After this, if the workmanship is good, the brass will be as attractive as new. Somebody says: If brass is lacquered, clean with warm water, dry thoroughly, polish with chamois.

DWYER.—Pork Pickle: When the meat is cooled, rub each piece with salt, and allow it to drain over night. Then pack in barrel with the hams and shoulders in bottom, using the strips of bacon to fill in between or to put on top. Weigh out for each 100 pounds of meat eight pounds salt, two pounds brown sugar, two ounces saltpeter. Dissolve all in four gallons water, and cover meat with the brine. For summer use it will be safest to boil brine before using. In that case it should be thoroughly cooled before it is used. Bacon strips should remain in this brine four to six weeks, hams and shoulders six to eight weeks. Then smoke or use liquid smoke, or it can be used without. Two cupfuls of salt equal one pound, two and one-half cupfuls of brown sugar equal one pound, and four teaspoonfuls of saltpeter equal one ounce.

LAW POINTS.

HUNTER.—License good till 1914.

J. H. S.—Every kind of ballplaying in streets is unlawful.

MRS. McS.—The transaction will bind the minor under facts you state.

A. B. C.—No law as to double flat chickens. See landlord, or move.

MOTHER.—For discharge from National Guards, apply to Gov. Major.

E. Z.—As to shipping dressed rabbits, write Jesse B. Jones, Game Commissioner, Jefferson City.

GRAND PLACE.—(Amended answer.) The warrants should have recited the execution and delivery of the purchase money deed of trust, or if a balance still remained unpaid, in which event seller would have retained a vendor's lien superior to the lien of the deed of trust intended as a second but recorded as a first. If seller's deed mentioned the fact of such purchase money deed of trust, or if the deed intended as a second but recorded a week previous to the purchase money deed of trust recited the fact that it was subject to the prior deed of trust, seller is in a safe position, otherwise not, the deed of trust in that event recorded first would have preference over the one subsequently recorded, the party loaning the money having no notice of the prior lien, and which according to facts you state led us to believe did not show up in the title. Innocent purchasers of negotiable paper will be protected when purchase is made before maturity and for value.

MISCELLANEOUS.

KELLY.—After Franco-Prussian War Marie Edme Patrice Maurice de MacMahon, Marshal of France, was second President of the Third Republic, succeeding Thiers; resigned Jan. 30, 1879.

C. S.—Estimate of foreign-born murderers in the United States, 18 per cent. An astonishingly large number of murders is committed by mere boys and even my mere girls. Foreign-born whites in United States, 13,343,382.

EDITH.—Though a tiny braid has appeared in your hair, you have nothing to fear from witches. If you are in ill health it is because of wrong eating, lack of exercise, worry or something else that is not witchcraft.

A. B.—The silver dollar buys as much as the gold dollar, though it is worth only 50 cents, more or less. That is because the Government "makes good" on this coin, which is no longer coined. (This column has no connection with the "want ads.")

FARMER.—Hotbed: Make excavation of desired length and breadth and 18 inches deep. Locate bed in place where there will be no seepage. Just below a hillside ditch is a good site. Plant any seed you desire, to have an early start for transplanting or any other purpose. Cover seeds so surface of bed will be within an inch of surface of ground. Keep bed moist with warm water, and it will begin to heat in a day or two. Be sure to cover bed with glass (or boards preferred) to keep out cold and rain.

FIRST APARTMENT HOUSE.

From the New York Sun.

It might have been centuries instead of 43 years since the first apartment house was erected in this city, so great has been the improvement in this popular type of dwelling. Rutherford Stuyvesant, a member of the old Stuyvesant family, was the first to introduce the apartment in this country. He had seen apartments in Paris. They were popular there with the best of people. Besides, it increased the ability of the owner to pay his tax bills and other expenses.

The tax problem interested Mr. Stuyvesant, as he owned considerable property about the city. Probably this was the reason for his interest in Paris apartment houses. After convincing himself that they would go in New York he erected the Rutherford, at 142 East Eighteenth street, soon after the Civil War. It was known as the French flats and was the talk of the town. The Rutherford Stuyvesant house is still standing, and according to brokers has comparatively few vacancies. It is five stories high, 112 feet wide and 92 feet deep. There are four apartments of seven rooms each to a floor. It has steam heat and hot water and is absolutely sound-proof.

The reception that met the apartment house was so great that many builders entered the apartment house field. Of late years the number has increased considerably. These builders have given up the construction of all but apartment houses, which has got to be a science requring constant attention and application. Through this specializing New York has been forced in the last 10 years into the front rank as the apartment center of the world.

ABSENT-MINDED PREACHER.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

On one occasion when Dr. Spooner, warden of New College, Oxford, was preaching away from Oxford, he astonished his congregation by his frequent allusion, in the course of a very learned sermon, to the views of Aristotle. They were all wondering whether it was quite proper to introduce so much about a heathen philosopher into a Christian discourse, when the doctor, who had finished the sermon and was half way down the pulpit steps, turned back, and, ascending the pulpit once more, remarked, gravely and deliberately, "I think I ought to say that wherever in the course of my remarks I have mentioned Aristotle, I meant St. Paul."

A BENEVOLENT EARTHQUAKE.

From the Anaheim (Cal.) Plaindealer.

Earthquakes as a general rule are disturbances not greatly desired, but one occurred at Piru, Ventura County, a few days ago that proved a money-maker for the Diamond Valley Oil Co.—most of the stockholders of which are Anaheim parties. The Diamond Valley company had been having lots of trouble with No. 1 well, which ceased to be a producer on account of water. The tremblor came along when the well was about to be abandoned, and completely shut off the water and started a fine flow of 42 gravity oil. The well is expected to continue as a steady producer, notwithstanding the queer way in which it was brought in.

Return of the Envelope.

From Lippincott's.

The treasurer of the Newburyport waterworks sent out his annual bills one year by mail. In the corner of the envelope was the customary request: "After five days return to Newburyport Water Works, Mass." What was his surprise to have a woman come into his office five days afterward and pass him an empty envelope with the remark: "Here is your envelope, but what you want of it is more than I can see."

Unthinkable Task.

From the Philadelphia North American.

Intervention would mean the pacification of horned toads, scorpions, soldados, rurales, vigilantes, haciendados, caballeros, peons, tortillas and senoritas. Can we afford to undertake such a contract?

An Outside Job

BY CAROLINE DWYER.

THE little, fashionably dressed woman with the lorgnettes looked hopelessly at the long line of push buttons and letter boxes on either side of the door before she found the name. At last, with a little, reckless gesture, she pressed the button. The hall door clicked and she began the long tramp upstairs. When one calls at an apartment house one always finds the person sought for on the top floor.

At the head of the fifth flight a door clicked open. Mrs. Van Leyden found herself looking into the face of a young, dark-haired woman.

"Miss Farrell?" she asked.

"Come in," replied the other shortly. She led her into a gaudily furnished room, in the middle of which, upon a hard, straight, velvet-covered chair, sat a fat woman in middle life, evidently Miss Farrell's mother, for except for the added years and embonpoint, the features were almost identical. Mrs. Van Leyden looked at the daughter and at the mother and shuddered involuntarily.

"Mamma!" said Miss Farrell.

"O, all right," said the stout woman, and, taking the paper which she had been reading, withdrew into an inner room.

"What can I do for you, Mrs"——

"Van Leyden," said the visitor.

A light of understanding came into Miss Farrell's eyes.

"Not Bobby Van Leyden's mother?" she asked, apparently much amused.

"Robert Van Leyden is my son," answered the other quietly.

"Then I guess I know what you've come for," retorted Miss Farrell. "Sit down, won't you? Well, stand if you prefer. You have heard that Bobby's mashed on me and want to stop it before it gets to the wedding bells? Well, don't trouble about that. My acquaintance with Bobby has not progressed beyond letters and flowers and notes asking me to come out to supper after the play is ended. I'm not stuck on your son."

"I think I understand your meaning," answered the visitor. I have no fears that my son will commit"——

"Matrimony?" inquired Miss Farrell.

"No, a mesalliance," said the mother proudly. "Miss Farrell, my son is engaged to the sweetest girl in New York, and I want him to marry her. If she suspected—why, she would have no more to do with him. Marion has pride, and my son, I know, loves her. He is just a foolish, stage-struck boy. Miss Farrell, won't you put an end to this nonsense?" She hesitated, and the other woman turned upon her fiercely.

"Now, don't you offer me money," she cried, "or I'll—I'll marry him!"

Mrs. Van Leyden said nothing; her tearful gaze, however, was more effective than words.

"Some people," said Miss Farrell, "think that if a woman is on the stage she doesn't amount to much. And that's where they guess wrong. Why, if my Joe even heard of Bobby's notes he'd wring his neck."

"You are engaged, then?" inquired the visitor, more gently.

"To the best man in the world," answered Miss Farrell, twirling a solitaire upon her finger. "And for Joe's sake—and perhaps for Bobby' girl, though she'd be well rid of him, in my opinion—I'll do what I can."

"But it must stop at once," cried Mrs. Van Leyden tearfully. "What can you do? Robert is very determined and very reckless."

Miss Farrell went to her secretaire and pulled open a drawer, from which she took a letter.

"Read that," she said, handing it to Mrs. Van Leyden.

Mrs. Van Leyden read it with horrified eyes.

"He wants you to dine with him at the Imperial tomorrow night," she gasped. "Why, the boy must be mad! A dozen people would recognize him—and you. Miss Farrel, what are you going to do?"

"Does your hus—Mr. Van Leyden know about this?" inquired Miss Farrell.

"He doesn't care," sobbed the other. "He thinks it's—it's funny!"

"Will he take you to the Imperial tomorrow night at 11 if you ask him?" inquired the actress.

"Of course he would. But what are you going to do?"

"Fix Master Bobby. Will you be there?"

"I will. But you—you're not going to do with him?"

"Now take it easy," answered the younger woman, patting her visitor's hand. "I promise to put a finish to Bobby and without scandal."

Mrs. Van Leyden went away shaking her head. But Miss Farrell leaned back in her chair and laughed till the tears ran down her cheeks.

"What's the matter, Madge?" inquired her mother, entering the room.

"O Ma! O Ma! O Ma!" sobbed Miss Farrell hysterically.

It was in a frenzy of fear and agitation that Mrs. Van Leyden took her place opposite her husband at the Imperial supper table the next evening. There were the Taylors, the Houghs, the Maynards—half a dozen people she knew, and all intimate friends. If Bobby and that awful actress came in the town would be ablaze with scandal the next morning. She trembled as each couple entered, and swept the room with her anguished eyes.

Suddenly she started. Bobby was coming in!

But was this Bobby who took a seat at the supper table—this immaculately attired young man who sat down at the farthest table, half hidden under the palms? And this hang-dog look in his eyes—she had never seen that before. And the woman with him! She glanced in terror at her husband. She had told him nothing, and he was too much absorbed in his supper to notice her own terror or the cause of it. But that woman!

A stout, middle-aged woman of 45 or so, with a huge red hat from which depended five pink ostrich plumes, a yellow evening gown trimmed with violet bows, a pair of short, black gloves a vapid smile, and—an umbrella!

It was Miss Farrell's mother.

And suddenly she understood.

"Say, Madge, I don't know what your game was, but it was the dullest evening I ever spent," complained Mrs. Farrell as she got home, weary and cross, at 1 o'clock. "I fooled that young fellow all right—anybody could fool him. He thought I was you all along. But what's the game?"

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at the old bugaboo—Obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of slimness. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription, that harmless combination of fat-defying elements discovered by one of our foremost physicians. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of combating these same pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bed time, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh, muscle and energy. Without dieting or exercise, Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily activity and self-denial cannot do, and the fat soon routed, is gone for good. You can prove all this at a trifling cost. Marmola prescription tablets are sold by druggists, or sent postpaid by the Marmola Co., Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich. A large case—sufficient to bring lasting results—is but $1.—ADV.

COURTSHIP—THEN AND NOW (THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS.)

ROSES MEAN LOVE—OF COURSE.

HOW I GOT MY FIRST RAISE.

OLD LADY GAVE HIM TEN CENTS.

When I was a boy 13 years old I used to cut grass for people. I charged 35 cents to cut a lawn.

I always tried to do my best at cutting and trimming so the people would keep me, for my boy friends did grass cutting, too, and were always looking for another place.

One day a lady gave me a 10-cent raise for cutting her lawn and I was very proud of it and told all the boys.

When I got big and whenever I got a raise I thought of the time the lady gave me my first raise.

H. DECKELMAN,

WAS ASKED TO STAY.

I started to work on the farm at the age of 14. It was very warm, being in the month of July, harvest time. My wages to start were 25c per day, room, board and washing. Work at that time went very hard with me, just out of school. But I soon began to like it very much.

At the end of the season my employer came to me and asked me to stay the year round and also gave me a raise to $15 per month, of which I was very proud. I worked for him for over three years.

A. A. ALLERHOUSE,
General Delivery, St. Louis.

BY ACTING PLEASANT.

I have been a stenographer and clerk for the past two years and have advanced myself and my salary by trying to wear "The smile that won't come off." I treat everyone as cordially as possible.

The first position I obtained, I received the "large" salary of $30 per month. I worked hard and after a reasonable length of time I asked for a raise. When this was refused I simply went to one of the friends I had made by treating him pleasant and he gave me a position with a good increase in salary. Later I received an offer from another of the men I had made my friend, at the same time receiving a nice increase in salary.

In the two years I have more than doubled my salary and attribute it to nothing else than being friendly even if I have to go out of my way to be so. It is the best way always.

LES, East St. Louis, Ill.

"TREATED ALL ALIKE."

I was working at the Moser Hotel and us boys had to depend mostly upon our tips for our salary.

One boy told me to treat all guests alike and I would get more tips. Those who did not tip me I treated the same as those who did. They all liked me and, therefore, I got more tips and more friends. Which made my salary larger.

THOUGHT HE WENT FISHING.

My first raise was a knock. My foreman thought I was fishing with another man, but I was sick with sore throat. My foreman told the boss that I was fishing and the boss said that maybe I was not satisfied with the wages, so he gave me a raise of $1 a week. I was making $14 a week and a raise of $1 makes me $15.

HELPED ANOTHER DEPARTMENT.

School had closed and vacation begun, so I thought that I would go to work. I secured a position with H. & B. Shoe Co., and started to work in the shipping and packing room at $3.50 a week.

My busiest times were from 7 to 10:30 and then from 1 to 3:30. During spare hours I had very little to do, and as soon as I finished my work I would go to some department that was very busy and help them. Well, then, in my third week's pay I found that my salary was raised to $4 a week, which made me very happy.

G. A. S.,

GOT IT THE FIRST DAY.

My first day in my first position brought my first raise. I had just finished a course in stenography and secured a position in the superintendent's office of a large retail dry goods house at an agreed salary. That first day I applied myself very industriously in learning my duties and endeavored to do my work just a little better. The work was exacting but I was made very happy when the day was done by being informed that my salary was increased $1 a week.

R. M. K. L.

WENT WITH A RIVAL.

I was working in a clothing store and there were three partners. I was getting $3 a week. One of the partners pulled out and was going to open a store for himself and wanted me to go with him. I told him that I was going to ask for a raise to $5 a week, and if he would pay me that I would go to work for him. He agreed and I went to work for him.

BEN C.,
East St. Louis.

DIDN'T DO TOO MUCH.

I got my first raise by being honest and doing an honest day's work, not by following the insane advice of Busch to "do twice the amount of work your employer pays you for." A man that would do that should not have a raise.

HELPED IN THE KITCHEN.

In the summer of 1913 I was engaged to work at a hotel here in town at $2.50 per week. I was to be upstairs girl and as I liked to work around the kitchen I would finish my work upstairs and then I would go down and help the cook. The first week they raised my wages to $3 per week.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy Has No Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—ADV.

What Thin Folks Should Do to Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to lifelong skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequaled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. Judge & Dolph, Weipert Drug Co., Rabeteau, Wolff-Wilson Co., Johnson Bros. and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.—ADV.

Women Who Have Nothing to Do

THE true savagery of woman is simple, naive. The child, too, is a savage. The savagery of woman and the child finds its delight in noise and movement and glitter. But the delight is due to inexperience.

These women who spend their time in shopping and promenading on Fifth avenue have no serious interest in life. They do not know what to do, says Frederick Starr in the Ladies' Home Journal. They are lonesome.

They have no household cares of wholesome character to occupy their thoughts, no cooking, no dressmaking, no homely duties. Mechanisms and servants and delicatessen shops have robbed them of all legitimate and natural employments.

They do not know how to converse, and they have no thoughts suitable for conversation matter. They have lost the art of reading, and if they skim an occasional copy of the magazines with the most fleeting contents they are wearied with their extraordinary mental effort.

They are incapable of producing anything. They must have contact, company, movement, so they gad and stare and gossip. They are physically and mentally worn and broken down. They are nervously unstrung. They crave excitement and continuous "go."

Such is the Fifth avenue crowd. It is not only weak and neurotic, it has bad tendencies besides. It is ill natured in comment, mean in criticism. If each member of that self-satisfied crowd could actually hear the comments made upon her, ears would tingle.

They are the savagery of decadence and degeneration.

Drivers of cars have been fond of mascots from the earliest days of motoring. When in the Gordon Bennett cup race in France 10 years ago one of the cars ran into a tree and its driver was killed, the tree was ravaged for splinters which motorists took away as charms against similar disaster.

The average length of life, it is stated, rose from 21¼ years in the sixteenth century to 40½ years in the nineteenth century.

Miss Graves, Who Is Employed There, Tells of the Benefits Received From Plant Juice.

Miss T. Graves, who has charge of the dining room at the Bellerive Country Club at Normandy and who fills her position with efficiency, has this to say about Plant Juice, the new vegetable tonic that everybody in St. Louis and in fact everybody in Missouri is talking about. In speaking of her experience with the new remedy Miss Graves says:

"I had heard so much about Plant Juice and knew so many people who had been benefited that I concluded to try a bottle myself. I have been suffering with stomach trouble for some time and my liver also gave me some trouble. I have taken one bottle and feel so much benefit that I have come to get some more, so I can continue the treatment. My stomach is in better condition than it has been for a long time and I am feeling better in every way. I consider Plant Juice a great medicine."

There are thousands of people right here in St. Louis who are half-sick, debilitated and run down, who feel tired and worn out; with no energy or vitality left, have no appetite, cannot assimilate their food, are nervous and despondent, asleep poorly and wake up tired and dragged out in the morning with no appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, puffy eyes, sore muscles and joints, are irritable and bad tempered and feel they cannot undertake the day's work. It is to these nervous, tired, worn out men and women that Plant Juice appeals. It revitalizes and invigorates the whole body and makes life seem worth living. It will do you more good than a trip to the country. Get a bottle from the Plant Juice man at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. store and if it does not help you he will return your money.—ADV.

BOY IN GAS-FILLED ROOM

Youth Found Unconscious, Book at Side; Condition Critical.

Henry Marcus, 17 years old, a son of Philip Marcus, 2020 Wash street, was found unconscious in his room at his father's home at 11:30 p. m., Wednesday. A gas jet was open and the room was filled with gas. He was taken to the city hospital and is in a critical condition.

A window in the room was open at the top, and there was a book on the bed. Members of the family believe the boy went to sleep when reading and that the wind blew out the gas. The elder Marcus was awakened by the smell of gas and traced it to his son's room.

$160,000 WAITING FOR MAN MISSING FOR 15 YEARS

Brother Asks That New Yorker Who Disappeared in California Be Declared Dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—For John A. Kopp, who left New York in 1896 and has not been heard of in 15 years, a fortune of $160,000 is waiting in the custody of the City Chamberlain. The money represents savings deposited to his credit by his mother, Mrs. Christina Kopp, and his share of the estate which she left when she died in 1901.

There is little hope among his brothers and sisters that John A. Kopp is alive, and yesterday one of them, Albert Kopp, applied to the Surrogate for a decree adjudging John to be dead and for the appointment of an administrator. In the application the brother tells of four separate searches made through the Pacific Coast states for the missing heir who went to California in 1874 to prospect for gold. He was then 21 years old and his mother gave him $320 to finance his trip. In 22 years afterward he made several trips East, but his visits here were short.

In July, 1898, two years after his last visit to New York, Mrs. Kopp received a letter from her son, then in Oroville, Cal., in which he reported that smallpox was raging there. He said he wanted to go to Quincy, Cal., to get away from the disease; there all trace of John A. Kopp ceases.

On the mother's death a search was made for the missing son that the estate might be settled. One of the brothers, Henry Kopp of Brooklyn, spent months on the last search, in 1909. John Kopp had become an Odd Fellow, but that lodge's records had been lost in the San Francisco fire. It is thought Kopp started from Oroville to Quincy and was killed in the wild stretch of country between the two settlements.

The New Inverted Outdoor Gas Arc

—Our last advertisement treated only of the psychological effect of light. We touched but casually on the commercial end of it—the great value of outside gas lighting for store or business house—the trifling cost of the service—the efficiency of the light itself.

—The inverted mantle of this new pattern Gas Arc Lamp throws the light downward—where it is most needed. This is the great secret of its splendid service and economy. The slight operating cost—two cents per hour—also means a saving to you.

—Considering the efficiency of this light, also the fact that our GAS SERVICE will save you, Mr. Business Man, SEVERAL DOLLARS every month, is it any wonder that we are making a strong bid for your lighting business? We are going to keep on making a bid for it, and eventually WE'RE GOING TO GET IT.

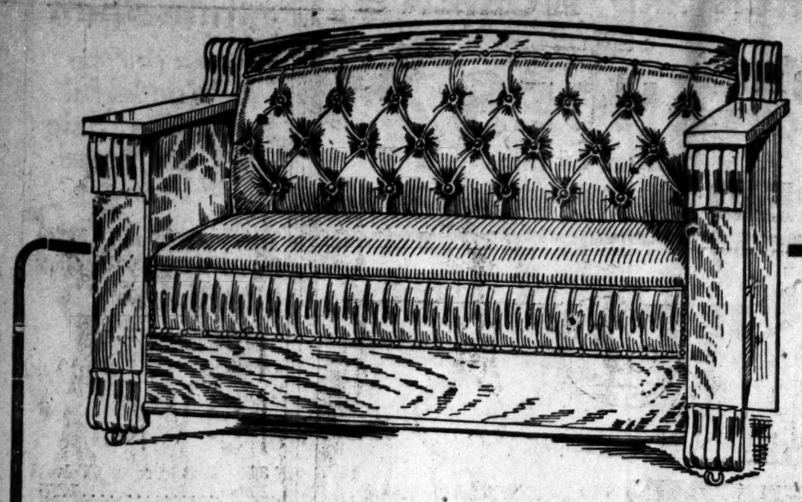

—Our experts figure just the number of lights necessary to change the entire aspect of your store—then we're ready to show you how we can save you money. WIFE SUED BY HER HUSBAND TELLS OF THEIR 'PURITY PACT'

She Says He Desired to Break Agreement, but She Kept Vow Made Before Marriage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Irene D. Cunningham, who is contesting the suit of her husband, Clement R. Cunningham, for divorce on the ground of "cruel and barbarous treatment," today explained the "purity pact" which she and her husband entered into a year prior to their marriage. It was the husband's desire to escape from this agreement that led to their separation and the divorce suit. Mrs. Cunningham said:

"I am neither better nor worse than any member of self-respecting womankind. I am moral and so is my husband.

"Imagine, if you can, what I was 14 years ago, the child of rigidly strict Episcopal and Quaker parents, practically knowing nothing of the thoughts and purposes which sweep this world along in its course.

Vague Idea of Fundamentals.

"I was not entirely ignorant upon the sex problem, but the real fundamental principles of life and its reproduction were very vague.

"It was when I had left the Darlington Seminary in Westchester that I first realized I loved the man who was to be my husband.

"I thought continually what I could do to show that I appreciated this great love and then the great idea came. Now, remember, that even if Mr. Cunningham had not agreed to my plan, we still would have been married, but he did consent and for years kept faith. Then, finally, he wished to break the pact. I refused, although at times I had been much tempted.

"I Kept My Oath."

"I often had a terrible struggle with myself, but I kept my oath. Nothing on earth could make me violate the pact. I am not a peculiar woman, even though my life may appear to have been a strange one.

"Whether others should do as I have done is a question. I would not advise they should, for it would confront them with a terrible and needless temptation. Let everyone live a normal and happy life, but I must keep the faith."

Document Left by Wife Killed in Auto Indicates She Had Same Fear for Husband.

Mrs. Brace left all her property to her husband, William D. Brace, with the provision, however, that "should by any accident my husband and I die by common accident or at about the same time," the property bequeathed should go to members of her own family.

Mrs. Brace was visiting friends in Indiana when she met her death. Two women with her in the accident were instantly killed and she lived only a few hours.

HAVANA, Oct. 30.—Miss Catharine Farrell of Brooklyn and Misses Anna Lally and Josephine Murphy of Washington were detained and searched yesterday when they arrived here on the Ward Line steamship Havana, from New York.

The Marshall & Wendell pianos and player-pianos for this co-operative sale were personally selected at the factory by Mr. P. E. Conroy, our President, and upon arrival are being tested and inspected by Mr. Charles Galloway, for years Conductor Apollo and Morning Choral Clubs.

Lest you forget

Copyright, 1913, by Martin McCarrick, Inc.

MARSHALL & WENDELL PIANOS have been made since 1853—there are 65,500 of these famous instruments in American homes—hundreds of them are in use in the homes of St. Louis families. We have scores of testimonials of St. Louis owners of Marshall & Wendell pianos and player-pianos, every one of these people tell you over their own signatures that the tone, touch, durability and lasting qualities of the Marshall & Wendell piano is unsurpassed. It is the famous Marshall & Wendell pianos and players that we are offering on the co-operative plan.

THAT there can be no misunderstanding—let us again tell you that 2 hundred 48 dollars and 75 cents the price of the piano—includes the privilege of paying for your piano upon terms of 5 dollars as an initial payment—then 1 dollar and 25 cents a week and no additional charge for interest.

In other words, this is the price and terms upon the co-operative plan

The pianos are of the most reliable and trustworthy sort—worth 350 dollars each

To sell them quickly—and to sell them economically—this co-operative movement between the manufacturer and the dealer was planned and organized. The central idea was, that each and every purchaser should enjoy the same identical advantages and privileges

To make the proposition doubly attractive and easy for the buyer, the payments were fixed at 5 dollars as the first payment, and 1 dollar and 25 cents a week

$5

The balance on the piano, is payable 1 dollar and 25 cents, weekly. The balance on the player-piano is payable 2 dollars weekly, WITHOUT INTEREST. This gives you 195 weeks time in which to pay for the piano or the player-piano.

The co-operative price of these pianos—$248.75 each

The price ($248.75) included everything—charging nothing extra for any privilege extended to members.

We agreed to give buyers their money back if a 30 days' trial of the piano was unsatisfactory

A year's exchange privilege which enabled buyers to exchange their pianos at any time within one year without one penny's loss

The association devised a life insurance feature through which all unpaid payments will be voluntarily cancelled in event of death

A rebate or premium system was figured out, so that those who want to pay faster than $1.25 a week will profit by it through getting a premium of 15 cents in cash handed back for each and every week they pay in advance

Boiling the whole co-operative plan right down—the organizers put into the plan every advantage and privilege that would suggest itself to them to make the plan an instant success

And it has been

98 persons have purchased pianos and player-pianos

May we not show you the pianos and go over the whole proposition with you in person.

Player-pianos can also be purchased on the same plan

Fifty player-pianos will also be sold on this co-operative plan.
The usual price of these player-pianos is five hundred and fifty dollars each.
The co-operative price will be three hundred and ninety-five dollars, with NO INTEREST to be added.
The player-piano will also be delivered immediately upon the payment of five dollars.
The payments will be two dollars a week—giving you one hundred and ninety-five weeks' time in which to make your payments—the same as on the piano. The same unconditional guarantee that is given on the piano is given on the player-piano.
You can also get your money back at any time within thirty days.
You get the same privilege of exchanging within a year as that given with the piano.
All of the unpaid balance will be voluntarily canceled in event of death.
Also, a player-piano bench and nine rolls of music (your own selection) are included without extra charge.
An arrangement will be made with each purchaser whereby new player rolls can be procured at a cost of only 5 cents a roll.
These player-pianos are standard 88-note players—that is, they play every note on the piano when the music roll is in motion. These player-pianos have an automatic shifter, which compels the music to play perfectly. Most player-pianos sold at from two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars more than these will not play perfectly. These player-pianos have lead tubing. Most player-pianos have rubber tubing. The life of rubber is one year at most. Lead lasts forever. It cannot wear out and the tubing in these player-pianos is so placed that it cannot be broken.

COLLECTION OF TAX AT INCOME SOURCE PUZZLES BANKERS

Even Revenue Official Unable to Explain Provision of Act Effective Saturday.

Certain provisions of the income tax law authorizing the collection of the tax at its source, which will become operative Saturday, are causing St. Louis bankers, brokers, trust company officials and heads of corporations no end of worry and trouble.

While individuals subject to the income tax will not be required to make returns until March 1, 1914, they may find, after Nov. 1, that their banker, broker or employer has retained 1 per cent of their salaries or dividends and paid it to the Collector of Internal Revenue. Official regulartions from the Internal Revenue Department at Washington were received by Internal Revenue Collector Allen at St. Louis Thursday. So far he has been unable to give the banks, trust companies and employers instructions for collecting the tax at its source.

Legal Opinion Requested.

The income tax law was found by the bankers to be such a puzzle that the Clearing House Association asked its attorney, John F. Lee, for a legal opinion on the subject. Several trust companies of St. Louis and other cities have attempted to make interpretations of the law for the guidance of their clients. Allen said he had been expecting daily the official regulations from Washington, but had no definite information as to when they would be sent.

With the exception of the provision requiring the collection of the tax at its source, the law is quite clear. It is estimated by Collector Allen that between 15,000 and 18,000 persons in the Eastern District of Missouri, embracing St. Louis and 52 counties, will have to pay the income tax. As there are more than 2,000,000 people in the St. Louis district, about one person out of each 100 or 150 will have to pay the income tax.

Although the income tax law did not go into effect until Oct. 3, it contains a retroactive provision that incomes shall be taxable from March 1, 1913. Persons subject to the tax will have to make their returns for the 10 months period from March 1 to Dec. 31. Thereafter returns shall be made to cover the full calendar year.

Provisions of the Law.

The law provides that all single persons having an income in excess of $3000 must pay a normal tax of 1 per cent on the excess, and married persons having an income in excess of $4000 must pay the same rate on the excess.

An additional tax of 1 per cent must be paid on the net income from all sources over $20,000 and up to $50,000; 2 per cent on the amount of income over $50,000 and not over $75,000; 3 per cent on the excess income over $75,000 and up to $100,000; 4 per cent on the excess income over $100,000 up to $250,000; 5 per cent on the excess income over $250,000 up to $500,000, and 6 per cent on the excess income over $500,000.

A person having an exemption of $4000 would not have to pay any income tax if his net income was only that amount the tax on a $5000 income will be $10; $6000, $20, and $10,000, $60.

Figures compiled by an income tax expert show that a man with a net income of $25,000 a year will have to pay to the Government $220 a year; with an income of $100,000 a year his tax will be $2280; with $250,000, the tax will be $9850; $500,000 a year, a tax of $34,810, and $1,000,000 a year, a tax of $59,770.

How Net Income Is Estimated.

To determine the net income of an individual the necessary expenses of conducting a business, not including person, living or family expense, may be deducted.

Additional deductions allowed are: All interest paid on indebtedness, all taxes, losses actually sustained in business, worthless debts charged off, a reasonable allowance for depreciation of property, dividends received from corporations which are subject to the income tax law, and interest on United States, state, county, district or municipal bonds.

It is believed by those who have studied the law that practicaly all the income tax will be collected at its source. Corporations are required to withhold the income tax in the payment of salaries to employes, and corporations or individuals paying in excess of $3000 as income to any person are required to withhold the tax.

Persons subject to the tax may file their exemptions with their employers or with the Internal Revenue Collector to have them allowed. A single man having an income of $3500 a year would be taxable on $500, but he might claim an exemption of his taxes or the interest paid on indebtedness, which should be deducted. If the taxes and interest aggregated $100, he would then have to pay on only $400, making his income tax $4.

Loophole in Separation.

There is one way by which a husband and wife having an income of $6000 a year could beat the income tax. They could separate, and each claim an exemption of $3000, but if they should prefer to continue living together they would be allowed an exemption of only $4000, and would therefore have to pay the income tax on $2000, making their tax $20 a year.

In the application of the income tax law, Collector Allen anticipates that many puzzling questions will arise. One of the first questions put up to him was by a man with an income of $5000 a year, who paid $2000 alimony to his divorced wife. Allen was unable to tell him whether he would have to pay the income tax on the money paid out as alimony.

Internal Revenue Collector Allen received Thursday nine copies of the regulations issued by Internal Revenue Commissioner Osborn at Washington and approved by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury. The regulations do not throw much light on many of the questions that have been puzzling the bankers.

They state that the debtor is considered the source of the income, and that the debtor must withhold the tax for the Government.

Banks and trust companies will be licensed by the Government to act as agents for the collection of the tax. The period for obtaining licenses was extended by Commissioner Osborn until Dec. 1, instead of to Nov. 1, according to a telegram received by Allen Thursday.

The regulations contain forms of blanks to be used by the department in collecting the income tax. Allen said that it would be a week before he could do any work in the collection of the tax, as he had received no blanks or other office supplies from Washington. Five additional clerks will be required to collect the tax.

WEST POINT MADE EASIER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Because 60 per cent of all West Point applicants have failed during the last three years, notwithstanding that many were high school graduates, Representative Sharp of Ohio called on Secretary Garrison today to recommend modification of examinations or have the Government conduct a preparatory course.

President Wilson recently vetoed a bill to reinstate one of Sharp's constituents who failed.

STOVALL READY TO SIGN MAJOR STARS FOR FEDS

Deposed Brown Manager Also Advocates Selection of Tom Lynch for Outlaw Leader.

Fight on Thomas Lynch, National League's Head, Expected to Fall Flat

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Some live-wire jockeying than has yet been in evidence will have to develop quickly, if the December meeting of the National League is to witness the unseating of President Thomas Lynch. At present Brooklyn, Chicago and Cincinnati are in the fight to get Lynch out, with Pittsburg uncertain.

The present lineup shows the other four clubs are for Lynch, and an opposition of five will be needed to unseat the present incumbent. Four votes will mean a deadlock and the retention of the job holder now in office.

When the vote is cast in December it is believed the Pirates will string with the Lynch element, thus making the case of the anti-Lynch law element hopeless.

There is talk that Lynch will be sentenced to the presidency of the Federal League in case he is turned down by the Nationals.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 30.—Armed with applications from many major league ball players for jobs with the Packers and the names of several who will be signed within the next 10 days, George Stovall, selected to manage the local Federal League club, will leave tonight for Indianapolis to attend the meeting of the league Saturday.

Treasurer C. C. Madison left yesterday and President E. E. Turner and Secretary Vincent O'Flaherty of the local "outlaws" will go Friday noon, the local team being well represented at the meeting, at which time it is expected that many important matters pertaining to the coming season will be disposed of.

Manager Stovall and Treasurer Madison held a conference yesterday and decided on salaries to be paid players this year, as well as the names of several applicants who will be asked to sign contracts within the next two weeks. The amount to be paid players was not announced, but it was said that it will be higher than last season, which, of course, would be necessary to get major leaguers.

Packers Favor Lynch.

One of the things which will be discussed at this meeting will be who will occupy the position of president for the coming year. The Federal magnates have their eyes focused on Tom J. Lynch, at present head of the National League, who, it is reported, will not be re-elected, because of trouble he has had with club owners who voted for him at the last election.

Lynch is especially in disfavor with the New York club owners. In speaking of Lynch as a possible candidate for the leadership of the new organization, a Packer official said today:

"I do not know who will be elected, but Lynch will not be out of a job if he is kicked out of the National League."

This indicates that they are thinking strongly of offering Lynch the position. In this event they may postpone the election of a president until after the National League election.

Demarest Takes Lead in Practice Balkline Match With Peterson

Showing flashes of his real form, Calvin Demarest of Chicago, challenger for Hoppe's 18.2 one championship, last night overhauled Charley Peterson, who for a time threatened to make a runaway of their 1800-point practice match.

Demarest averaged 28 14-22, with a high run of 99, and won the third block, 504 to 396. The total score for the three nights' play now is: Demarest 1200, Peterson 1168. In the closing match Thursday evening Peterson must make 404 to Demarest's 400, so the local man's chances do not look so rosie.

A Pat Hand Against the Federals.

WHILE Federal League supporters are pattering loquaciously about the "big league or bust," a calm, frosty silence and a confident repose pervade Organized Baseball, which refuses to see itself tottering under the shock of independent league invasion.

The fact that the Federals have come out from under cover and unmasked their batteries, declaring they will grab big League talent when they can get it, seems in nowise to have disturbed the National and American League heads or to have hurried them to any defensive steps.

• • •

A Trap for the Unwary.

CAN you guess the answer? Sure, Bo. THE DEFENSE HAS ALREADY BEEN ARRANGED and the big moguls of the game are waiting for the upstarts of the new organization to blunder into the trap.

There will be no "jumping" of big league contracts this fall, in the opinion of the legal advisers of the baseball world, and therefore there will be no major talent to speak of in the new organization.

That's why the big guns are resting, while the Feds are doiling themselves up for battle.

• •

The Fly in the Ointment.

THE fact is, Organized Baseball is sitting in this little game with a pat hand. It has passed the bet, for the present, but is prepared to raise any offer made by the opposition.

The "pat hand" involved consists in a change in the reservation clause which was introduced into contracts last season, whereby the player is really bound in law to the party of the first part—i. e., the club hiring him.

Here's the clause as it now reads:

The compensation of the party of the second part stipulated in this contract shall be apportioned as follows: 75 per cent thereof for services rendered AND 25 PER CENT THEREOF FOR AND IN CONSIDERATION OF THE PLAYER'S COVENANT TO SANCTION AND ABIDE BY HIS RESERVATION BY THE PARTY OF THE FIRST PART FOR THE SEASON 191.... unless released before its termination in accordance with the provisions of this contract.

The party of the second part shall be entitled to and shall be paid the full consideration named herein in regular semi-monthly installments, unless released prior to the termination of this contract in accordance with Section 8 hereof, regardless of whether or not the contracting club exercises the privilege of reserving the party of the second part for the season of 191....

Old Contract Not Binding.

THE old reservation clause, reserving the player without compensation, had been declared "lacking in mutuality" and therefore not binding, in the cases of Jack Harper, Roderick Wallace, John Powell and others who "jumped" to the St. Louis Browns in 1902.

The new clause provides compensation for the privilege of reserving the player one year. In the opinion of one of the ablest lawyers in St. Louis, a man who has been at times identified with baseball in a professional way, this contract is binding on both the player and the magnate. He told the writer:

"This contract may not force the player to work for the club contracting with him, but it will enable the said club to enjoin him from playing for any other team."

• • •

Sexton, Toll the Bell!

THIS is the particular nail that will close the coffin of the Federals' big league hopes. It makes certain that there will be no wholesale jumping of contracts, and no concerted holdup of magnates for salaries.

The clause virtually gives the club a one-year option on the player's services at the old salary.

THUS, if George Stovall is signed to one of the new contracts, as he undoubtedly is, he can not turn a hand to play for the Kansas City Federal League team, unless the management of the Browns chooses to permit him.

JOHNNY KILBANE MEETS PUZZLING FIGHTER TONIGHT

"Kayo" Mars, Who Trimmed McGovern, Faces Champion at Cincinnati.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

Johnny Kilbane, the lightweight champion, will test the ability of "Knockout" Mars of Cincinnati, as a boxer, when they meet in a scheduled 10-room bout in Cincinnati Thursday night. Mars has earned a reputation in the 122-pound division. Although he has never appeared in St. Louis, he is regarded by local fistic fans as a comer. His victory over and a draw with Benny McGovern, the local boxer, have boosted his stock here.

But Kilbane has the habit of upsetting the championship aspirations of young boxers. Ollie Kirk of St. Louis can give details of this. But should Mars make a good showing against the featherweight king, he will have earned the respect of all the performers in that division.

Should Mars hold his own, he will be brought here for a return match with McGovern. Manager Bishop of the National A. C. has promised to book the bout. McGovern fought Mars twice in Cincinnati. He believes Mars should grant him a return date in St. Louis. Benny is eager to wipe out the defeat registered by the Cincinnatian.

Bishop May Pursue McFarland.

Manager Bishop of the National A. C. said today he would make a trip to Chicago, if necessary, to procure the signature of Packey McFarland to an agreement to meet Freddie Welsh, the Englishman, at the Coliseum, Nov. 20. Welsh is willing to box McFarland, provided the Chicagoan makes 135 pounds. McFarland is holding out for catch weights, but Bishop believes he can induce the pair to come to terms.

Welsh is booked to meet Eddie Murphy, the Boston boxer, in Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 10. Murphy is the boy who in two bouts here defeated Harry Trendall and then lost to Jimmy Duffy.

An invitation tournament, in which the best amateur boxers of the city will be asked to compete, is scheduled at the Missouri Athletic Club, Nov. 29. That's the same day that the club's 10-mile run will be held.

Pratt Denies He Told Secrets of Baseball Union

Derrill B. Pratt, the Browns' young infielder, is up in arms over the report that the fight at Robison Field during the playing of the last game between the Browns and Cardinals was because Pratt was accused of having divulged secrets of the Players' Fraternity to the club owners. Pratt is the Browns' representative on the Board of Directors of the Fultz organization.

In a letter to a St. Louis friend, Pratt, in part says:

"I note in last week's edition of a baseball paper something about the late unpleasantness in which I engaged at Robison Field. I am sorry that it ever happened, both for baseball's sake and myself. But I went after one of the Cardinals because he said something that any man would resent.

"The story also that the Cardinals were waiting their chance to 'get' me because I was supposed to have 'tipped off' some information regarding the plans of the Players' Fraternity. This was all news to me and when I read it I must say that I was somewhat hurt. There is not a word of truth in the matter and the foundation of the story is a mystery to me.

Billikens at Last Make a Noise Like a Varsity Team

If Everything Goes Right Saturday, St. Louis U. Eleven Has a Good Chance to Get a Lighter Beating Than Usual.

By W. J. O'Connor.

CRUTCHES, plaster casts and injured feelings were tossed into the ash heap at Sportsman's Park, Wednesday afternoon, following the announcement that St. Louis U. had a rosette chance Saturday of winning a game at the expense of Tulane U.

Kickers who had been confined to the hospital either by choice or injury, rolled off their cots and crawled into moleskins. The result was pleasing. For the first time in two weeks a full squad was out, including Carroll and Murphy, the only two players in the city who can hurt themselves. Harrison, another absentee, wedged into the fullback position and after a short signal drill the Billikens acted like a really and truly varsity eleven.

Coach Fred Dennis, whose patience was seriously wounded last week, resulting in a general breakdown, still was missing, but his assistant, Elmer Smith, took charge and aided and abetted by Capt. Kistner, put the players through a strenuous scrimmage. It was the consensus of opinion that if the Billikens stay together Thursday long enough to get thoroughly acquainted with each other they may bring home the bacon Saturday. And 'tis further allowed that one victory will go a long way towards rehabilitating the creaky little blue and white machine.

Hardaway Back at Quarter.

Coach Bill Edmunds of Washington University, who made a tour of the professional schools Tuesday, asking for help, was rewarded Wednesday by the appearance of Kunz, a husky Hawaiian, who will get in shape for the Missouri game. Kunz is just what the doctor ordered for the Pikeway line and he should be a big help to Edmunds in rounding out a team to beat the Tigers.

Capt. Maurice Hardaway returned to his old position at quarterback, relieving Gilford, who rattled into his regular berth at left halfback.

Hardaway will play quarter against the Drake team Saturday, and probably will remain in this berth the remainder of the season. Because of Milford's showy game at quarter last Saturday there was some talk of making him the permanent field general. However, Hardaway is out to prove his worth in this position.

When the Pikers leave Friday for Des Moines, Jeehle and Kammerer will make the trip, Edmunds taking a squad of 18. Gray, the guard who reported this week, after being out for a few days, also will be included.

New Halfback at C. B. C.

Frank Schweitzer, late of Marshall, Mo., reported to Coach Kelly at C. B. C. Wednesday, and will be one of the regulars for the remainder of the season. Schweitzer is a halfback of some experience, and will help out Ratican, Gallagher and Gerber behind the line. The newcomer weighs 170 pounds.

Capt. Mangus performed at center, while Dyer was switched from fullback to guard, White going behind the line. This change threatens to be permanent. Ratican again missed practice, but promises to be on the job Thursday. De Paul calls Saturday.

Manager of True Blues Says His Team Will Not Play at Robison Field

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—John Watt, manager of the True Blues, the Paterson (N. J.) soccer football team, last night wired Winton Barker, president of the St. Louis Soccer League, that he had made no engagement to take the True Blues to St. Louis to play at Robison Field during the Christmas holidays and had authorized no one else to do so. Under the rules of U. S. A. F. A. the True Blues would not be permitted to play against the Robison field clubs unless the latter came into the national body. The same conditions apply to the Hibernians of Philadelphia, and the report they are to play in St. Louis is also discredited here.

BASEBALL UNION TO PROTECT MEN WHO GO TO FEDS

Members Violating Big League Reserve Clause Held to Be Guiltless.

The Federal League gained a decided point on the baseball map, as far as the players are concerned, through the announcement made by President Dave Fultz, outlining the attitude of the players' union, known as the Baseball Fraternity, toward the contract relations between player and employer.

According to Mr. Fultz's conception of the relationship, a player who ignores a big League reserve clause and jumps to the Federals will be protected by the fraternity.

Jumping a contract is another thing. It will not be countenanced by the fraternity, and a player who does not lay his case before the Grievance Committee of the organization before making such a move is liable to expulsion from the fraternity.

Feds Not Asked to Join.

Players in the Federal League have not been asked to join the fraternity, but major League players going to the Federals, as George Stovall has done, will remain in good standing. Stovall has a just grievance and is jumping a reservation—not a contract.

The McCarthy soccer team will play the Belleville eleven at Belleville Sunday. Arnold Hauser Will Spend Winter in Woods to Strengthen Weak Knee

SOMEWHERE in Southwest Missouri, where the country is wildest, Arnold Hauser, the Cardinal shortstop, and his comedian friend, Steve Evans, intend to build a cabin and hibernate. Evans is making Hauser's house his home just now, while preparing for the invasion of the woods.

Hauser and Evans believe that they will be better prepared to hold their jobs in the National League next season if they spend the winter in the open country. Arnold has a lame knee to nurse, while Evans is determined to be in such shape by next April that he will not have to wear a rubber shirt in training camp.

"I believe," said Hauser Wednesday, "that by hunting all winter I can give my knee the right kind of exercise to make it strong. It feels good now, stronger than it has for two seasons, but I want to take every precaution against further injury. Hill climbing should put me in shape."

Manager Huggins, who voluntarily assumed the managerial burden at Robison Field for another season, is visiting Mike Kelley at St. Paul. Hug will proceed from St. Paul to Indianapolis to attend the meeting of minor leagues Saturday.

Another athlete has passed up the world's tour. Doc White, the veteran southpaw of the White Sox, has definitely decided to remain at home. He will do a vaudeville turn around the Chicago movies this winter, instead of circling the globe, which is expensive besides tiresome for the blase knight of the diamond.

By batting Art Fromme hard in the third inning, the Sox subdued the Giants, 7—1, in their game at Muskogee, Ok. Wednesday. Buzzie Bezzo, a former Cardinal, relieved Fromme and checked the run-getting. Scott went the route for the Sox.

Teddy Cather, the ill-fated member of the Cardinals, who was released to Indianapolis a few weeks before the season closed, will be recalled by Manager Huggins next spring. Cather suffered a dislocated shoulder and a broken ankle during the past season and failed to accomplish much. His release to Indianapolis, however, merely was a "cover-up." He'll be back in the spring.

McCaffery to Play With Innisfails When Foley Removes Dobs Schmidt

Jimmy McCaffery, the star forward of the Innisfails, said Thursday that he would line up with Willie Foley's eleven when it meets the Athletics at Robison Field Sunday. McCaffery refused to play last Sunday because of an argument with "Dobs" Schmidt, one of the team's halfbacks. He told Manager Foley that he would not play again unless Foley removed Schmidt from the team. According to McCaffery, Foley has promised to play minus Schmidt next Sunday. McCaffery says that it was erroneously reported that he had trouble with Forward McLean. Instead, he says they are the best of friends. McCaffery having recommended the former "Hib" player to Manager Foley.

Good Time Now For Blood Health

Energies Are More Keen and Respond Quickly to Help.

If you are down with rheumatism or you sneeze, feel chilled, are choked with catarrh, have a cough, or your skin is pimpled and irritated with rash, eczema, or any other blood disorder just remember that all the ills of life come from impure blood. And you can easily give your blood a good thorough cleansing, a bath by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be despondent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each part selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to scientific medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line. For many years people relied upon Mercury, Iodide of Potash, Arsenic, "Physics," Cathartics and "Dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure vegetable S. S. S. is their safeguard.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but finest upon having it. And you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a Specialist freely, address Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 311 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

BEAUTIFUL! ARTISTIC! CLEVER!

Are a few of the adjectives to apply to that old Southern Colonial type of home located at 6377 Berlin av. Really it is one of the most attractive homes we have offered for sale. In the basement is a finished, decorated rathskeller complete with Dutch furniture and buffet. The finish through the house is white and mahogany, with decorations and fixtures in keeping. Hardwood floors throughout. Hotwater heat. Instantaneous hot-water heater, stationary laundry tubs. A garage of ample size and in keeping with architecture of the house. Lot 55x170.

WOMAN IN IROQUOIS FIRE MISSING WITH GEMS

Husband Asks Police to Find Wife Who Never Recovered From Shock.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Frank A. Nickey, manager of an importing firm of this city, today offered a reward of $200 for information as to the whereabouts of his wife, who disappeared last Tuesday night.

At that time Mrs. Nickey went to visit her mother on the West Side of the city, and wore jewels valued at $1500. She was seen last by a casual wayfarer, standing on a corner, apparently waiting for a street car.

Mrs. Nickey was rescued, half suffocated, from the Iroquois Theater fire, several years ago, when nearly 600 lives were lost. She never recovered completely from the shock.

MINISTER SAYS ASSASSIN ATTEMPTED TO KILL HIM

Indiana Pastor Thinks Sermons Against Lawlessness Caused Attack.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Oct. 30.—The Rev. C. E. Elmor, pastor of the Park Christian Church here, reported to the police today that an attempt was made to assassinate him at the parsonage last night.

Elmor said that while he was standing in the kitchen a shot was fired at him from the back yard. The bullet passed through the window, striking the wall just above his head, and was found on the floor. He attributes the attempted assassination to the sermons he has preached recently denouncing lawlessness in the city.

The minister recently was prosecuted by Ada Ross, a negro girl, on a charge of attempted attack.

MRS. C. H. MACKAY SERVED IN COURT ACTION BY HUSBAND

Defendant in $1,000,000 Alienation Suit Named in New Secret Proceeding.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Clarence H. Mackay has caused his wife, Mrs. Katherine Duer Mackay, to be served with papers in a court action, but the nature of the proceedings has not been disclosed.

When Mrs. Blake, wife of Dr. Blake, who has brought suit for $1,000,000 against Mrs. Mackay, was told today of the action, she said:

"I'm entirely in the hands of my lawyers, and it would not be proper for me to offer any comment."

"But does the news of this latest court action against Mrs. Mackay surprise you?" she was asked.

"No, I have wondered for several years at Mr. Mackay's patience."

Before Justice Seabury, in the Supreme Court, argument on the application of Mrs. Blake for alimony pending the trial of her separation suit was postponed until Friday.

POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS

SUIT IN U. S. COURT TO RESEAT SULZER BEGUN BY PRINTER

Injunction Application, Paving Way to Supreme Court, Calls Impeachment Illegal.

ATTACKS GLYNN POSITION

Petition Declares He Has Usurped Office in Not Being Elected by Sovereign People.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A suit looking to bringing the impeachment of William Sulzer before the Supreme Court of the United States, was started today in the United States District Sourt here by injunction proceedings instituted by William H. Moore, a printer employed on the New York World.

The complainant sets forth that the Constitution of the United States is being violated in that the Government of this State, Sulzer having been removed, is not under the supervision and administration of a Governo relected by the citizens of the State. This, he says, denies citizens a Republican government as constitutionally guaranteed.

The defendants named include Gov. Glynn and all the State executive officers, together with State Senators and the Judges of the Court of Appeals. The plaintiff asks that the present administration be enjoined from recognizing the decision of the High Court of Impeachment and that Sulzer be restored to office.

Suit Surprises Sulzer.

The suit came as a surprise to Sulzer, who is now in this city campaigning for the Assembly from the Sixth District. He had no statement to make. Moore said that in his suit he was acting as an individual and not for any cause or political faction.

It is charged that the defendants, "claiming to be a court of impeachment," voted that William Sulzer was guilty as charged in several of the articles in which the impeachment proceedings were based, and that the defendant, Glynn, acting in sympathy with the other defendants, took the oath of office of Governor of the State of New York and wrongfully assumed and is still assuming to exercise all the powers, duties and functions of that office.

The other defendants, the petition adds, are using all the power of their several offices to maintain Glynn as Governor, to the exclusion of Sulzer and to induce other officials and citizens of the State to recognize, accept and obey Glynn as "though he was in truth and fact Governor of the State," to the usurpation of the office against the plaintiff and his fellow citizens of the State and the establishment of a government of the personal selection of the defendants in the place and instead of the republican government established by Moore and his fellow citizens.

Legality of Impeachment Attacked.

The legality of the impeachment charges also is attacked. On this point, Moore contends that in meeting on July 12 (probably intended for Aug. 12, the date on which the impeachment charges were taken up) the legislature illegally assumed and abrogated to itself the right to convene and illegally "went through the form of reconvening and passing articles of impeachment." These "pretended" articles, Moore continues, "were attested by the clerk of the assembly as valid."

It will be recalled that Sulzer himself voiced this contention on the ground that he had convened the Legislature in extraordinary session and that it had no right to take up the question of impeachment under the circumstances.

The State's vast expenditures and many offices attracted the covetousness of a certain group of citizens long prior to Jan. 1, Moore asserts, without naming the group thus designated. The activities of this group, he continues, were directed to obtaining control of the public offices of the state.

Supreme Court Has No Precedent for Reviewing Impeachment Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—There are no precedents for the Supreme Court reviewing impeachment proceedings as such. The injunction proceedings filed in New York today might come to the highest court for review on the contention that Federal Constitutional rights had been denied to Sulzer.

For that much there is legal provision for a Supreme Court review.

Should the case be forwarded from the lower court, it undoubtedly would be expedited; otherwise a decision would not be reached in regular course much under three years.

Sing Sing Warden's Resignation Rejected by Superintendent.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Supt. John B. Riley of the State Prison Department and James E. Clancy, who recently resigned as Warden of Sing Sing, held a long conference today and later Riley announced he would not accept the resignation at present.

"Regarding the contents of the 'black book' which Hennessy has exhibited in his speeches in New York," said Warden Clancy, "I can only say that Stilwell assures me that he would be entirely willing to release Hennessy from his obligations not to publish it, but for the fact that it contains references to individuals and matters which were in no way connected with the Sulzer controversy.

"Stilwell regards Hennessy's references and inuendoes regarding the interview had with him at Sing Sing as dishonorable in every way and as taking an unfair advantage of him in his present unfortunate condition.

"Stilwell says that he is forced to the conclusion that when Hennessy found that he was not in possession of such information as would enable him to destroy certain Senators and others in public life, he concluded not to advise the Governor to pardon him. That being the fact, under the solemn agreement made in the presence of several persons, no reference to the intrview should have been made."

MISSOURI QUARRIES ASKED TO BID ON STONE FOR CAPITOL

Commission Will Accept Alternate Estimates in Effort to Solve Problem.

"CROW'S FEET" THE ISSUE

Chairman Stephens Thinks New Quarries May Be Developed to Supply Demand.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 30.—The question of getting suitable stone for the construction of the new State Capitol from Missouri quarries is worrying the members of the State Capitol Commission.

The stone from Missouri quarries does not come up to the specifications laid down by the commission because of the presence of what stone men call "crow's feet" and sutures.

The commission met today and wrestled with the stone question for several hours. Finally it was decided to permit Missouri quarrymen to submit two bids, one for the contracts under the specifications as adopted by the commission and the other for the best stone practicable.

The law requires the use of Missouri limestone. It was adopted by the people and could not be changed except by going back to the voters.

Another question which confronts the commission is whether or not stone in large enough blocks to construct a classical building can be obtained in Missouri.

The architect's design calls for a strictly classical structure along the lines of the St. Louis Public Library. Whether Missouri limestone will run in large enough blocks to give classical tone to the structure is a matter yet to be ascertained.

Chairman Stephens said today that the commission hoped to work the matter out satisfactorily. He thinks it likely that other quarries will be developed, before the State needs the stone, which may be able to furnish limestone up to the specifications.

Nearly all the samples submitted by the developed quarries have "crowsfeet" ranging in width from one-eighth of an inch to more than one-half inch. The commission will try to thresh the matter out without recommending an extra session of the Legislature to call a special election to repeal the provision requiring the use of Missouri stone. Members of the commission say that it will be impracticable to go back to the people with the stone question.

"Crowsfeet" are said to produce weathering, which gives the stone a peculiar gashed appearance.

The bids for the construction of the Capitol will be opened Nov. 15.

COAL RECEIVER ACCUSED OF DIVERTING $400,000

Stockholders File Charges to Have Thomas J. O'Gara Removed by U. S. Court.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Charges that he had retained $400,000 due the company as commissions on the sale of coal from the mines of the corporation were among those filed against Thomas J. O'Gara, president of the O'Gara Coal Co., before Judge Landis in the United States District Court here, today.

The company went into bankruptcy six weeks ago, and Judge Carpenter appointed O'Gara and former Mayor Fred Busse, receivers. Eastern stockholders, including Amos R. E. Pinchot and Albert B. Kerr of New York City, and William B. Kerr of Syracuse, now ask that O'Gara be relieved as a receiver, and make charges as follows:

"That O'Gara is under indictment in the Federal Court, charged with receiving rebates from railroads. That the financial difficulties of the company are due to his mismanagement. That he diverted funds of the company to his personal use. That he used the company's credit to borrow money for himself without knowledge of the directors. That he used men and equipment of the company in his private enterprises.

PAUL BROWN BUYS PEPER PROPERTY FOR $156,000

At the auction sale of real estate of the Peper estate at the Real Estate Exchange Thursday the old tobacco warehouse property, which has 330 feet frontage on Market street and 135 on Twelfth street, was purchased by Paul Brown, broker, for $156,000.

Before the property was awarded to Brown on a bid for the whole piece it had been sold in parcels for an aggregate sum of $148,550. John Gundlach, president of the City Council, bid $35,000 for two pieces. The sale was conducted by Commissioner Charles Cummings Collins, appointed under a suit of the heirs for a partition of the estate.

SIX PER CENT MONEY MARKET LOWERS STOCK

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

A further rise in call money rates, more gold withdrawals for Canada, and some poor September statements by the railroads, together with the uncertainty over the outcome of affairs in Mexico were some of the factors causing unsettlement in the stock market today.

"The market moved uncertainly when it moved at all, trading being narrow and highly professional most of the time. There was nothing in the day's fluctuations to excite interest. In the last hour there was some show of life, when the lowest level of the day were touched on rather heavy selling of the highly speculative shares. This movement affected a good portion of the list and gave the market a heavy appearance.

Foreign Buying Light.

"London traders did little here. On the other side the markets were a good deal upset by political conditions and by fears of complications in Mexico. There was rather heavy selling at Berlin, where one or two small failures occurred.

"A feature here was the continued strength in New York City bonds, the new 4½ per cents touching 105¼. The 4¼ per cents were also in demand around 100.

"The inquiry for these bonds, as well as for other high-grade municipal issues, was prompted largely by the desire of many investors to own tax exempt securities.

"The buying of New York City bonds was the broadest that has been seen at any time since the last issue of 4½ per cents were sold in May last. At today's high price the bonds show an advance of nearly 5½ points, as compared with the average bid at the public offering of five months ago.

"Prices moved within a narrow range and trading was confined largely to the active issues. There was some selling of United States Steel and Union Pacific in the last hour, which forced both stocks below yesterday.

"The selling of Reading, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper was also a factor in the afternoon weakness. But the market as a whole displayed little or no animation and net changes for the day were unimportant.

"At the opening most of the active shares showed fractional losses from yesterday, with such declines as ⅛ for United States Steel, ¼ for Union Pacific and ¼ for Reading.

"Later the market reacted and for a time the active shares ruled fractionally above yesterday. But on this movement the market became dull, and on the advance in call money rates to 6 per cent the lowest prices of the day were made.

Bank Return Good.

"Although, in the eyes of people familiar with European finance, Monday's reduction in the German bank rate, disposed of all possibility of an advance in the London bank rate under present conditions, nevertheless the New York and London stock markets have been repeating the prediction.

"They were doubtless, therefore, agreeably surprised when the Bank of England did not raise its rate today. Such prophets might also have gained some enlightenment from studying the weekly report of the institution.

"Despite the operations of New York and Paris in the week's London gold market, the Bank of England has gained $2,800,000 gold. It lost $1,200,000 in the same week last year, and its gold holdings for the first time since the summer now exceed what was held at the corresponding period in any previous year except 1895.

"Not only so, but the ratio of reserve to liability, though slightly below last week's, is the highest at the end of October in 18 years.

"Meantime, the Bank of France has gained $1,470,000 gold this week; offset by a $27,000,000 note expansion—which, however, is due to the approaching monthly settlements and is therefore temporary.

"Furthermore, while that bank's gold reserve is now $49,000,000 above this week last year, its outstanding circulation even with this week's increase, is only $28,000,000 above 1912.

"These London and Paris comparisons, taken along with the Bank of Germany's action of last Monday, are at least as good a measure of the European situation as are Stock Exchange rumors and conjectures."

DETAILED REPORTS OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The undertone was good throughout the morning and prices tended upwards until the bears attempted to depress the market. They succeeded in halting the rise, but further than that were unable to make much headway. Stiff money rates impeded a sustained advance. Call money opened at 5 per cent. Time rates, however, were little changed, and Western banks loaned 60 and 90 day money here at 4¾ per cent.

Bonds were irregular.

The leading stocks barely moved at the opening today. Trading was light and the small fractional variations from yesterday's close revealed to well-defined trend. The only wide movements were among the less active shares. Texas Co. and Delaware & Hudson lost 3 points, and Vulcan Detinning preferred 5¼. United States Express gained a point.

As long as the demand from the short interest was in evidence, prices advanced. When this inquiry was satisfied the market took a downward course. Canadian Pacific, Reading, Steel and Union Pacific reached a point. Local traction shares were marked up briskly, but lost much of their improvement when weakness set in.

Some recovery was effected from the lowest figures of the morning, despite the virtual check to speculation by a rise in call money rates to 6 per cent. Another $1,000,000 in gold was shipped to Canada, which depleted further the scanty resources of the local banks.

With speculation becoming dull on any upward inclination, shorts were in no hurry to take back the stocks they sold, and the market accordingly was a spiritless affair in the later hours.

Although the earlier weakness was not continued, the market did not rebound sufficiently to create any optimism among the bull faction, the rally coming to a dead stop before a full recovery was made.

Crop conditions in the Argentine were favorable Thursday, though they were unfavorable Wednesday. It is impossible to tell what they will be Friday, as the Chicago speculative crowd probably won't manufacture them until after the market closes.

Every year the Argentine has its crop scare, artificial or real, for the benefit of Chicago speculators.

It is such a long span from La Salle street to Buenos Ayres, that crop reports can be doctored easily every day. This apparently is the game being worked at present. For every day of the past 10 has seen the Argentine crop good or bad.

Broomhall helped the favorable side of the crop today, by saying the outlook generally was favorable. In his Wednesday cable he had frosts doing damage in one section and hot, dry weather in another.

The "bunco" side of the grain market lately has been glaring in its transparency.

Broomhall's marvelous Argentine dispatches lowered Liverpool prices ⅝d to ¾d on the early cables. This was reflected in Chicago, St. Louis and other domestic markets with a ½c decline. After the early selling was absorbed the market turned irregular.

Other news was a standoff. The weather map indicated unsettled weather over the country, but the rise of the past 10 days has driven millers out of the market.

Northwestern receipts totaled 1600 cars, against 1216 last year and 705 two years ago. The cash trade was quiet.

The official Liverpool cable said: "The firmness in American cables was offset here by better weather reports from Argentine and realizing caused a decline at the opening of ¼d to ½d. Following the opening there was a further decline of ¼d to ⅜d with the undertone heavy. Manitoba offers are liberal, with the demand here quiet, and our agent reports that the outlook in Argentine generally is favorable and this report is confirmed by several reports received here by private firms. Those who bought freely yesterday on the possibility of frost damage realized on more reassuring cables today."

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅝d to ½d lower, corn ⅜d to ⅞d lower. Paris wheat ¼c lower, flour ½c to ¾c lower. Antwerp wheat ⅝c higher; Berlin ⅝c lower; Budapest ½c higher.

Broomhall's special Russian cable said: "The crop of wheat is considered larger than last year, with interior reserves large and accumulating. The quality on the whole is not satisfactory. Arrivals at the ports are comparatively light and shipments much under expectations. Holders are firm and offers are well taken, mostly by Mediterranean countries. The greater percentage of weekly shipments are of barley and much of the waiting fleet is being used for this purpose."

Broomhall estimates Argentine wheat shipments this week at 80,000 bu; last week, 328,000 bu; last year, 928,000 bu. Corn this week, 1,275,000 bu; last week, 3,477,000 bu; last year, 7,761,000 bu.

Minneapolis wheat receipts totaled 343 cars, against 588 last week and 376 last year. Duluth 453, against 258 and 414. Winnipeg 804, against 985 and 426. Minneapolis wheat stocks increase 575,000 bu for 5 days.

Local wheat receipts were 79,200 bu, or 56 cars local, 10 through; last year 141,600 bu, or 89 cars local, 29 through. Corn receipts 45,600 bu, or 28 cars local, 10 through; last year 18,000 bu, or 11 cars local, 4 through. Oats receipts 103,700 bu, or 36 cars local, 35 through; last year 95,200 bu, or 38 cars local, 18 through.

Total primary wheat receipts were 1,138,000 bu against 1,951,600 bu last year. Shipments, 412,000 bu against 1,209,000 bu last year. Corn receipts, 336,000 bu against 343,000 bu last year. Shipments, 344,000 bu against 275,000 bu last year. Oats receipts 916,000 bu against 1,226,000 last year; shipments, 817,000 bu.

Clearances: Wheat, 268,000 bu; flour, 15,000; corn none; oats 5000. Wheat and flour 326,000.

Corn futures were firm after early selling. Cables were weaker, but a fair cash demand developed on the break. Receipts were 336,000 bu, against 343,000 bu last year. The weather map suggested unsettled weather.

Chicago wheat cars were 28; corn, 82; oats, 118. Estimated Friday: wheat, 35; corn, 68; oats, 116.

Liverpool corn opened unchanged to ⅜d lower, with some steadiness on the lighter forecast for Argentine shipments. During the morning there was free general liquidation with a decline of ⅜d to ⅝d due to the pressure of cargoes and parcels, easier spot, small demand and pronounced pressure at the docks.

Broomhall's agent estimates the wheat crop of the Commonwealth of Australia at 104,000,000 bu. Last year the official crop was placed at 79,300,000 bu.

St. Louis cash wheat closed irregular. Demand fair.

Cash corn steady to 1½c higher and demand urgent.

Cash oats easy to ½c lower; trade slow.

COTTON IS IRREGULAR AFTER EARLY BUYING

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The cotton market, at the opening, seemed divided between a bullish view of ultimate supplies and apprehension that immediate offerings might prove large enough to cause depression. A decline of 5 to an advance of 1 point marked the early trades, but prices soon showed net losses of 8 to 10 points.

Near month liquidation, caused by the circulation of October notices, seemed to subside during the noon hour, but the market continued very nervous on reports of a bank failure in Mississippi, and continued reports of an easier Southern spot situation. Active months sold about 19 to 23, and October 47 points net lower. The market closed irregular. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 14.00c; gulf, 14.25c. Sales, 4300 bales.

By ROY L. M'CARDELL

Mr. Jarr Finds Himself an Object of Universal Love and Sympathy.

"WHAT'LL you have, my friends?" asked Mr. Slavinsky as Mr. Jarr came into Gus' place on the corner. "Nothing? Well, take a cigar. Gus, give him the best in the house—ein fer fimf!" But Mr. Jarr said he wasn't smoking. He meant, however, he wasn't smoking the brand Mr. Slavinsky was calling for.

Gus also gave Mr. Jarr a sympathetic look, but only remarked:

"I don't blame you that you don't take nothing. Booze ain't no encouragement when you are in trouble, and if you ain't in any trouble you don't need it."

Mr. Rangle drifted into the place and shook Mr. Jarr by the hand in a silent, earnest manner. Then Gus remarked the weather was very changeable. And coughed. The others coughed also and said the weather was quite changeable.

"If you need anything, remember I'm your friend," remarked Gus, after an awkward silence of a half minute or so. "You own me"—Gus opened the door at the back of the bar and consulted the sacred silicate slate—"you own me $4.10, but I aint' going to say anything to anybody about it. If you should never pay it I wouldn't go round knocking you."

Then Mr. Jarr noticed, as he happened to glance through the opening in the partition to the private room at the back, that the door to the stairway leading to Gus' living rooms on the next floor was open and that Gus' wife, the handsome and militant Lena, was peering at him with keen interest and that Mrs. Muller, her friend, was also being given a look.

"What's the matter?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Anything wrong with me?"

"You are all right," said Gus, for the others at the bar looked to him as though to say he was to speak for them. "You're all right," said Gus, "and maybe it can't be helped.

"Sometimes," Gus went on encouragingly, "I wish my Lena would do the same. But, after all, you get used to 'em. And right now I want to say that I am getting to like my wife, Lena."

"Maybe Ed don't want us to talk about it," ventured Mr. Rangle. "My wife says—and my wife's a sensible woman; she's got her prejudices, of course," he added, "and these prejudices may include a man stopping in here of an evening and things like that—but Mrs. Rangle says that when the best of them get the society bee, why, it's the husband that's the one stung with it. Mrs. Rangle, she don't care a snap for society." Mr. Rangle went on, making rings on the bar with the bottom of his shell of beer; "she could go with the best of them if she wanted to"—

"That's just like my wife, Lena," said Gus. "My wife Lena comes from people what wouldn't wipe their feet on me. That's what kind of people she comes from, and I'm very proud of it. But my wife she wouldn't give two cents to go into society with even a brewer's family. She likes her kaffeeklatch when she can get Mrs. Muller and Mrs. Beppler and Mrs. Slavinsky with her, roasting everybody. But to get with nice people, she's too proud and high-toned to care for it."

"This is all very well, this descanting upon the domestic virtues possessed by your several wives," said Mr. Jarr. "But where do I come in?"

"Ain't you heard it?" asked Mr. Slavinsky. "Your wife is going to leave you. Ain't she told you that?"

"Oh, lots of times, of course," said Mr. Jarr, "but not recently. I should hasten home and ask her, I suppose. But perhaps she would refuse to confirm or deny the rumor."

"Poor feller!" said Gus sympathetically. "At the same time I hope it ain't so. If it ain't, why, you can pay me that $4.10. But Yensen, your janitor, told Tony, the coal and ice man, and Tony told our Toney, the bootblack, who told Tony the barber, who told Elmer, my bartender, who told my wife Lena, that your wife was elected on the suffragette ticket as a lady president in some island down South, where she was.

"Tut, tut!" said Mr. Jarr. "You mistake the whole thing entirely. She isn't going to be the Presidentess of Costa Rica. The Presidentess is going to be our bete noir this winter."

"Oh, if that's all it is," said Gus, "forget it!"

"Now, Willie, what's a strait?"

"Five consecutive cards of any suit."

Asked Too Much.

"YOUNG man" said the fond father, "in giving you my daughter I have intrusted you with the dearest treasure of my life."

The young man was duly impressed. Then, during the few moments of impressive silence that followed, he heard the patter of rain against the window pane.

"Gracious me!" he exclaimed. "It's raining, and I haven't my umbrella. May I borrow yours to get to the station?"

"Young man," said the fond parent, "I wouldn't trust anybody on earth with my umbrella."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

BARRED FROM HIS OWN ROOM.

ARRIVING after midnight at Moberly, Mo., Eugene R. McCarthy, a commercial traveler, asked for a room at the leading hotel but was told every room had been taken.

Going the rounds of all the other hotels, he discovered the same condition—no place to sleep, though he was desperately tired.

Returning to the hotel where he had first applied, he concluded to put in the night in an office chair. Before doing so, however, he thought he would find out if there was not a last chance to secure a bed. Presenting the clerk with a real cigar, he elicited the information that one room was unoccupied, but was being held for a man from St. Louis who had not arrived but was "sure to turn up." Happening to ask the name of this man, he was told it was "E. R. McCarthy."

It appears that a friend, H. L. Tomes, wishing to make sure that McCarthy would be accommodated, had bespoken the room for him.

He Scored.

"NOW, there's no need of you arguing, Henry," ordered Mrs. Peck, "for you know that in a battle of tongues I can hold my own."

"Then," replied her husband calmly, 'why don't you?"

Yes, Why Not?

IT was an arduous task for the teacher to drum into her youthful pupils the principles of arithmetic. "Now, listen," she said. "In order to subtract, things have to be in the same denomination. This is what I mean: Now, you couldn't take three apples from four peaches, nor eight marbles from 12 buttons. It must be three apples from four apples, and so on. Do you understand?"

The majority seemed to grasp the idea. One little youngster in the class raised a timid hand.

"Please, teacher," he inquired, "couldn't you take three quarts of milk from two cows?"

Practising.

"He's a golfer, you know, and he does that to keep in practice."

Literally.

SHE: I'm sorry that you and I disagree on the subject of spooning.

He: Yes, I wish we could get together on that point.
